SOME EARLY FAMILIES OF BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Baldwin || Davis || Dodd || Morris || Ward

Excerpts from "Bloomfield, Old & New"
An Historical Symposium by Several Authors

Published by the Centennial Historical Committee Bloomfield, New Jersey 1912

BALDWIN

Benjamin, the weaver, was the founder ancestor of most of the Baldwins of Bloomfield. He came from Milford, Connecticut, and was in Newark in the fall of 1666, a young man aged twenty-six years. There was given him a home lot in Newark, located west of the present Washington Avenue, near Warren Street. He took up land between the Second and Third rivers, and north of the highway leading over Watsession Hill. Among his descendants was David Baldwin, born about 1715, from whom most of the family who located near the Third River and Morris Neighborhood are descended. When David was eighty-five years old he could still drive his team to a swamp by the river and bring home a load of wood. David and his sons owned three mill sites on Third River, and most of the farms between the church and Morris Neighborhood. He was a charter member of the old church, and his wife and eight children had the same honor. The children were Zophar, David, Silas, Jesse, Ichabod, Eunice, Sarah and Simeon. Jesse was a quartermaster in the Continental Army. It was Simeon who opposed the project to build a frame church, and vigorously declared for a permanent structure of stone. He operated a grist and fulling mill. He died September 7, 1806. The Baldwin line to David and his large family runs as follows: Joseph, Benjamin, Benjamin, David.

Steven Davis of the Milford group was the Davis ancestor. No record appears concerning any grant to him of land in Bloomfield. There are many records showing that Thomas Davis, his son, had acquired a number of tracts in this neighborhood near the Second and Third rivers previous to 1700. A deed in the possession of the Davis family of Bloomfield, dated November 7, 1711, in the reign of Queen Anne, conveys 111 acres in the Eastern Division of New Jersey from Thomas Wall of Middletown, Monmouth Co., to Thomas Davis of Newark. Which descendant of Stephen Davis was the first to make his home on Watsession Plain we are unable to state. Caleb, the father of Deacon Joseph Davis, died in 1783, aged sixty-six years and his wife, Ruth, in 1793. The Davis line in Bloomfield appears to run as follows: Stephen, the founder, died in 1691. His sons were John, Thomas and Jonathan. Thomas (2) who was born in 1660 and died January 26, 1738, acquired much land has been mentioned. He had seven children: Thomas, Jonathan, Stephen, James, Apphia, Sarah Ball, and Mary. From Thomas (3) descended James (4), whose will in 1748 mentions Thomas (4), who died in Bloomfield in 1780 and four daughters. It is this Thomas who gave the lot for the school. From Jonathan (3), who died in 1690, descended Caleb (4), born 1717 and died in Bloomfield 1783; and Deacon Joseph (5), born 1753, died June 5, 1827. The children of Deacon Joseph were Caleb, Charles, Joseph Austin, Henrietta, Abigail, Martha and Mary. Henrietta was the last of children to occupy the old homestead, and later a grandson, Charles M., the son of Caleb (6), resided there. Joseph Austin was the well-known physician, who is still remembered by hundreds of his former patients. Another line comes from Moses Davis, sons of whom were John, Joseph and Henry.

~~in different parts of Essex County, and one of his deeds for property further away~~

DODD

Daniel Dodd of Newark was the ancestor of the Dodds of Bloomfield and Doddtown, East Orange. He came from Branford about 1668. He was appointed in March, 1678, with Edward Ball, to run the northern line of the town from the Passaic to the First Mountain. The land looked fair to the young man, and he soon thereafter surveyed a tract upon Watsession Plain, in the valley of the Second River. The Elizabeth Town Bill in Chancery states the fact of his having secured this land. In January 18, 1697, this property and much more in various localities was confirmed to him by the East Jersey proprietors. He was chosen a deputy to the Provincial Assembly in 1692. His children, Daniel, Stephen, John and Dorcas are said to have established homes on various tracts of the Watsession grant.

MORRIS

Thomas Morris, whose name appears among the Milford group at Newark in 1666, was the forefather of the Morris family of Bloomfield. He died at New Haven in 1673, and it is possible that the original records read "John" instead of "Thomas," and that Thomas never left Connecticut. John (2) and his wife Elizabeth, said in 1668 to have been "late of Neww Haven," had two sons, John and Philip. The father, John (2), died about 1675. John (3), born the year Newark was settled, was the actual founder of the family, his brother Philip having no children. He is called "Captain" in the records and arose from "Sergeant." John cleared the land and settled personally on the tract to be later called the Morris Neighborhood. He was at one time sheriff of Essex County. He lived to the ripe age of eighty-three years, and saw great developments in this region. John Morris (3) testified in the land controversies about 1740 that he had occupied his lands for many years, showing that he personally settled on his plantation near Third River. His sons were Stephen (4), who was born in 1706, and died in 1781; and John, Jr., whose will is dated 1729. Ephraim (5), the son of Stephen, married Joanna Davis, and his son Stephen (6) married in 1799 Catharine Smith. Their children were Ephraim (7), Jacob, James, Joseph, Mary, Emeline, Hulin and Albert.

John Ward, called the "dishturner" and more frequently "turner," was the founder ancestor of the Wards of Watsesson Plain. He came to Newark in 1666 with the Branford Group. His uncle Lawrence, the first of the settlers to be mentioned as deacon, also came at that time, but died childless four years later. Elizabeth, widow of Lawrence, owned land here in 1675. John, the turner, in 1675 had confirmed to him by the East Jersey Proprietors, forty-four acres beyond Second River, bounded on the north by property owned by his aunt, Elizabeth. Upon this land, now the center of Bloomfield, the descendants of John in time settled. Who was the first to clear the woods and build a house cannot be stated. Nathaniel, the son of John, owned property here in 1697. About 1795 Washington Avenue was called "Samuel Ward's lane." The characteristic names of the Wards have been John, Josiah, Nathaniel, Lawrence, Jacob, Caleb, Matthias and Samuel, all coming from the early settlers. The Ward line from John the "turner" appears to be as follows: John (1) will, 1684; Josiah (2) will, 1713; Lawrence, born 1710, died April 4, 1783; and the sons named in his will, made in 1776, were Samuel, Jacob, Jonathan, Stephen and Cornelius. The foregoing were the families, briefly sketched, which began the settling of Bloomfield. There were others who followed them; among them the Balls and Cadmuses, but they came later. The Balls were descendants of Edward Ball, of Branford, one of the descendants was Joseph of Bloomfield. The Cadmus line in this region begins with Thomas, born May 7, 1707, who came from Bergen (Jersey City) to Second River (Belleville), and married there Cornelia Jeralemon on June 30, 1733. <snip>

...The religious spirit finds expression in positive manner in the Fundamental Agreement or constitution upon which the town was founded. Unanimously adopted at the first town meeting on May 21, 1666, by the Milford company and delegates representing Branford and Guilford, the document was then forwarded to the two latter places for signatures of residents of those places contemplating the pilgrimage. Credit is therefore given the men of Branford and Guilford of signing first.

THE AGREEMENT
October 30, 1666.

At a meeting touching the Intended design of many of the inhabitants of Branford, the following was subscribed:

1st. That none shall be admitted freemen or free Burgesses [Deut. i-13] within our Town upon Pesayak River in the Province [Exod. xviii-21] of New Jersey but such Planters as are members [Deut. xvii-15] of some or other of the Congregational Churches, nor shall [Jer. xxx-21] any but such be chosen to magistracy or to Carry on any part of said Civil Judicature, or as deputies or assistants, to have power to Vote in Establishing laws, and making or Repealing them or to any Chief Military Trust or Office.

Nor shall any But such Church Members have any Vote in any such elections;
Tho' all others admitted to be planters have Right to their proper Inheritances, and do and shall enjoy all other Civil Liberties and Privileges, According to all Laws, Orders, Grants, which are or shall hereafter be made for this Town.

2d. We shall with Care and Diligence provide for the maintenance of the purity of Religion professed in the Congregational Churches. Wherefore unto subscribed the Inhabitants of Branford.

The texts of Scripture incorporated, emphasized the complete obedience to an overruling Providence:

"Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you."--Deut. i-13.

"Moreover, thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens."--Exod. xviii-21.

"Thou shalt in any wise set him King over thee, whom the Lord thy God shall choose; one from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee; thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother."--Deut. xvii-15.

"And their nobles shall be of themselves and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them."--Jer. xxx-31.

The Surveyor-General of Elizabeth Town arranged "Middle highways in the length and breadth of the town (Broad and Market streets of our day) to be eight Rods wide and the Rest four." Mulberry and Washington streets, included in the first map of road laying, were named respectively East Back Lane and West Back Lane.

Three ranges were provided "with due preparation and solemnization," one each for the people of Milford, Branford, and Guilford. Drawing for home lots was adopted as the most expeditious and harmonious method of settlement. These lots consisted of six acres, except that of Captain Treat. He was allowed not only two additional acres, but also the privilege of first choice. This honor was in return for his skill and expense in negotiating the purchase of the land. He selected the lot at the southeast corner of the highways running the length and breadth of the towns and extending easterly to East Back Lane (now Mulberry Street) and in a southerly direction beyond the point now occupied by the First Presbyterian Church. The two extra acres were on the westerly side of the roadway, near the watering place.

All the men capable of handling axe, adz and saw, made inroads into the adjacent forests as huge trees were felled and hewn into required length for home building. Before the summer and autumn passed the virgin soil of early spring was dotted with neatly laid-out farms, on which were erected the homes of the people.

Not till November did the delegation of New Englanders arrive with the long-awaited Fundamental Agreement, signed and sealed and necessary subscriptions guaranteed. Chilling winds and snows of the long winter months were succeeded by the balmy days of the vernal season and singing birds filled the woods with their music. The year 1667 had arrived and the Branford and Guilford contingents were daily expected. Early in June they came with their worldly effects. On the 24th of the month the items to be attached to the Fundamental Agreement for town guidance were read, discussed and adopted. Signatures of the Milford people were duly attached to the document and the remainder of the meeting was devoted to solemn service of prayer. In this manner was Milford by the Pesayak River dedicated to the service of God and man. The name was later changed to Newark, in honor of Rev. Abraham Pierson, who received his ministerial orders at Newark-on-the-Trent, in England. The name was also pronounced and spelled New Worke and New Ark...

The most notable transaction after acquiring the land was the establishing of the boundary line between Newark and Elizabeth Town. This was arranged on May 20, 1668, at Divident Hill, now in Weequahic Park. Newark representatives were Captain Robert Treat, Jasper CRANE, Samuel Swaine, Matthew Canfield, and Thomas Johnson, every man well read and versed in diplomacy. John Ogden, Luke Watson, Robert Bond, and Jeffrey Jones acted for the Elizabeth Town planters.

MAPPING THE LOTS OF THE EARLY SETTLERS

CLARIFYING THE LOTS OF EDWARD & JOSEPH

INTER-RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN THE FAMILIES

INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

SIGNATORIES. On October 30, 1666, 64 former residents of Branford and Milford of the New Haven Colony CT signed an Agreement to found a common township at "New-Ark on Pesayack" NJ [S55], for the reasons stated in the Note on the move to Newark, New Jersey. These included Sergeant Edward Riggs (son of Edward of Roxbury), his son Joseph, his sister Mary's husband George Day (all three removing from Milford), and his wife's probable brother Lt. Samuel Rose (from Branford).

The next section of this note identifies these signatories by the apparent order within their town of origin in which they signed the document. This is referred to subsequently as a cross-reference: for example, since Joseph Riggs was the 40th person from Milford to sign, he is referred to as "Milford 40". For completeness, it also identifies the other settlers occupying lots who were not signatories to that Agreement: these include sons of the original signatories and other settlers who followed from New Haven Colony in 1667 and 1668.

HOME LOTS. A Map of the Home Lots of the early occupiers was drawn by Samuel H. Conger, numbered to identify the original signatories to that Agreement: for example, that occupied by Joseph Riggs is identified as "Milford Home Lot 40". This Map appears, accompanied by a List of Home Lots (referred to from now on simply as 'List') on two separate web-sites [S60]. However, because some lots became occupied by non-signatories, these are unnumbered on Conger's Map, and the names on the List for one or two lots do not match the list of original signatories.

A further map, based on Conger's Map, appeared in a book of Newark Narratives [S61] which also included a list of the occupier of each lot (but with no reference to Home Lot numbers). This list divided the town into four quadrants and each lot within a quadrant was identified by a letter of the alphabet (the two web-pages referred to above also list the occupiers within these quadrants).

I have attempted to reconcile and update these sources and correct any apparent mistakes. To achieve this reconciliation, and help identify the occupiers more clearly, I have redrawn Conger's Map as a schematic diagram, but identifying the lots using the same letters within each quadrant as on the Newark Narratives Map. Both of those maps and the schematic diagram are shown in the third section of this note, followed by a key to the occupier of each lettered lot and a note of any apparent discrepancies.

INTER-RELATIONSHIPS. The final section identifies the family inter-relationships between the original settlers and highlights those families into which one of Edward's immediate descendants subsequently married. It does so by supplementing the above information from other sources, primarily Savage's Dictionary [S5].

Text in purple is used to highlight any mention of Edward and his relatives, for ease of reference. And, to avoid confusion, Sgt. Edward Riggs (Edward of Roxbury's son) is referred to as EDWARD RIGGS SGT, his son Edward is referred to as EDWARD RIGGS SR. and Edward Riggs Sr's son, who married Aphia Stoughton [S3], is referred to as EDWARD RIGGS JR

MAPPING THE LOTS OF THE EARLY SETTLERS

KEY TO LOT LETTERS ON SCHEMATIC DIAGRAM

The cross-reference after the settler's name is to the order of signing the original Agreement within the former town of residence (e.g. "Milford 12").

References to Home Lot numbers are to the similar numbers used by Conger on his map (e.g. "Milford Home Lot 12") and do not relate to the number on the lot that was first drawn by that settler.

SOUTH-WEST QUADRANT

A. "The Meeting-House" (marked by Conger as "B - The Burying Ground")

B. "Captain Treat's extra"

Numbered by Conger as Milford Home Lot 1, a number he duplicated by also allocating it correctly to SE lot A.

None of the Lists identifies an occupier.

C. John JOHNSON (Branford 22)

D. "The Parsonage Home Lot"

None of the Lists identifies an occupier.
E. John BROWNE Sr. (Milford 9)
F. Stephen BOND (Milford 41)
Appears incorrectly as 44 in one List [S59].

G. Zachariah BURWELL (Milford 27)
H. Ephraim BURWELL (Milford 24)
I. Thomas LUDINGTON (Non-signatory)
J. John BROOKS (Milford 14)
K. Thomas L. LYON (Branford 23)
L. Joseph JOHNSON (Non-signatory)
M. John TREAT (Non-signatory)
Appears in one List [S59] as "Captain Treat's extra" (SW lot B).

N. John GREGORY (Non-signatory)
O. Henry LYON (Milford 8)
Appears incorrectly as 3 in one List [S60].
P. Joseph WALTERS (Milford 29)
Q. Samuel CAMFIELD (Non-signatory)

R. Robert DALGLISH (or DOUGLAS) (Milford 30)
S. Francis F. LINLE or LINDSLEY (Milford 16)
The number 16 is difficult to decipher on the Map and one List fails to identify Francis by Home Lot number [S59].

T. Matthew WILLIAMS (Non-signatory)
U. "Walter's (sic) second division"
Presumably Joseph Walters drew two lots in the drawing for lots.
None of the Lists identifies an occupier.

SOUTH-EAST QUADRANT

A. Capt. Robert TREAT (Milford 1)
Conger duplicated Milford Home Lot 1 by also allocating it to SW lot A, which was "Captain Treat's extra".
One version of the List [S59] annotates this lot as "(later Azariah CRANE)".
Capt. Treat returned to Connecticut and his daughter Mary, who was the wife of Azariah CRANE, then inherited this lot. [S20] [S21]

B. Rev. Abraham PIERSON Sr (Branford 2)
Conger duplicated Branford Home Lot 2 by also allocating it to NW lot G, occupied by Abraham PIERSON Jr. (Non-signatory). NW lot G may have originally been "Abraham Pierson Sr's extra", conveyed by him to his son Abraham Jr.

- C. Robert R. DENISON (Milford 25)
- D. Thomas JOHNSON (Milford 22)
- E. George DAY (Milford 21) - son-in-law of EDWARD RIGGS SGT
- F. Nathaniel WHEELER (Milford 26)
- G. Originally EDWARD RIGGS SGT (Milford 12)

Subsequently JOSEPH RIGGS (Milford 40)

Wrongly numbered by Conger as Milford Home Lot 40 on the basis that it was then occupied by Joseph Riggs.- see next section clarifying the lots of the Riggs families.

- H. William CAMP (Milford 28)
- I. Martin TICHENOR (Milford 35)
- J. Stephen FREEMAN (Milford 7)
- K. John CURTIS (Milford 23)
- L. John BALDWIN Sr (Milford 18)
- M. Thomas STAPLES (Non-signatory)

- Q. Ephraim PENNINGTON (Milford 34)
- R. Seth TOMPKINS (Non-signatory)
- S. Samuel LYON (Milford 39) - "The Tailor's Lot"

Although this Home Lot was clearly numbered 39 by Conger, all three Lists identify it merely as "The Tailor's Lot", and do not identify Samuel Lyon by name.

- T. Thomas PIERSON Jr (Non-signatory)

Numbered by Conger as Branford Home Lot 9, a number he duplicated by also allocating it correctly to NW lot I, occupied by Thomas PIERSON Sr.(Branford 9). This SE lot T may have originally been "Thomas Pierson Sr's extra" and conveyed by him to his relative Thomas Jr.

- U. Samuel HARRISON (Non-signatory)
- V. John BROWNE Jr (Milford 36) - brother-in-law of Edward Riggs Jr
- W. EDWARD RIGGS Sr (Non-signatory)

Wrongly numbered by Conger as Milford Home Lot 12, identifying it as occupied by Edward Riggs Sgt.- see next section clarifying the lots of the Riggs families.

- X. Hugh ROBERTS (Milford 33)

NORTH-WEST QUADRANT

- A. Lt.Samuel SWAINE (Branford 3)
- B. Lt.Richard HARRISON (Branford 12)
- C. Edward BALL (Branford 15)

Although this Home Lot was correctly numbered 15 by Conger, both of the web-page Lists wrongly identify it as Home Lot 13

D. John MORRIS 'in 1688' (Non-signatory)

Numbered as Home Lot 32 (see final section on inter-relationships).

E. John WARD Sr (Branford 14)

F. Matthew CAMFIELD (Milford 3)

Although this Home Lot was clearly and correctly numbered 3 by Conger, both of the web-page Lists wrongly identify it as Home Lot 5

G. Rev.Abraham PIERSON Jr (Non-signatory)

Numbered by Conger as Branford Home Lot 2, a number he duplicated by also allocating it correctly to SE lot B, occupied by Abraham PIERSON Sr.(Branford 9).

This NW lot G may have originally been "Abraham Pierson Sr's extra" and conveyed by him to his son Abraham Jr.

H. Jasper CRANE (Branford 1)

I. Thomas PIERSON Sr.(Branford 9)

Conger duplicated Branford Home Lot 9 by also allocating it to SE lot T, occupied by Thomas PIERSON Jr.(Non-signatory). SE lot T may have originally been "Thomas Pierson Sr's extra", conveyed by him to his relative.

J. Benjamin BALDWIN (Non-signatory)

K. Thomas HUNTINGTON (Branford 18)

Appears incorrectly as 19 in one version of the List [S59], thereby duplicating that number.

L. Alexander MUNROW (Non-signatory)

M. "The Elders Lot" (marked 'F' on Conger's Map)

None of the Lists identifies an occupier.

N. John WARD Jr, 'the turner' (Branford 10)

O. Deacon Richard LAURENCE (Branford 21)

P. Deliverance CRANE (Branford 19)

Referred to as 'Delivered' in the List of Signatories and in one web-page List [S60], reflecting the Newark Narratives List [S61], but as Deliverance in the other web-page List [S59] and by Savage.

Q. Hans ALBERS (Milford 31)

R. Lt.Samuel ROSE (Branford 8) - brother-in-law of EDWARD RIGGS SGT

S. "The Miller's Lot" (marked by Conger as "G - The Mill Lot")

None of the Lists identifies an occupier.

T. Samuel DOD (Non-signatory)

U. Daniel DOD (Non-signatory)

V. "The Corn Mill"

NORTH-EAST QUADRANT

- F. Robert KITCHELL (Milford 13)
- G. Jeremiah PECKE (Milford 5)
- H. Obadiah BRUEN (Milford 2)

I. "The Seaman's Lot"

All three version of the List refer to this, with one web-page [S60] identifying it as a lot to the right of lots H and J, reflecting the Newark Narratives map [S61], but no such lot can be deciphered on Conger's Map. It may well refer to the area marked by Conger as "D - The Landing Place".

- O. John CRANE (Branford 17)

P. Jonathan SARGEANT (Milford 37)

Also marked by Conger as "H - The Boatsman's Lot".

All three versions of the List identify it only as "H - The Boatsman's Lot", but Conger's Map is clearly marked with the number '37' as well as the letter 'H'.

Q. Robert LYMON (Milford 15)

R. John DAVIS (Non-signatory)

This is the only lot on the far side of the 1st River Mill Brook, and its boundaries can just be distinguished on Conger's Map.

CLARIFYING THE LOTS OF EDWARD & JOSEPH

Conger's map shows SE Lot G numbered as Milford Home Lot 40 on the basis that it was then occupied by Joseph Riggs (the 40th signatory from Milford), and SE Lot W numbered as Milford Home Lot 12, identifying it as occupied by Edward Riggs Sgt (the 12th signatory from Milford).

Conger had, however, made a mistake. Edward Riggs Sgt.(Milford 12) originally occupied SE lot G. I originally reasoned this out on the basis that, according to Wallace [S3]: 'Joseph was still single in 1667 and lived with his father and mother ... no home lot had been assigned to him. His father died in 1668 and his mother, contemplating marriage, in 1671 conveyed to him one-half of the original home lot assigned to Edward's family". That being so, Joseph's lot would have been previously occupied by Edward Riggs Sgt prior to his death and should thus have been numbered Milford Home Lot 12. The Edward occupying SE lot W, which Conger assumed was Edward Riggs Sgt, would have been Edward Riggs Sr, who had arrived with his wife and children later in 1667 and had not been a signatory[S3].

This reasoning has since been confirmed by two items of further information received from a fellow researcher. Firstly, "Edward Riggs...had land in addition to home lot 'for service on the place by staying the first summer'." This second lot was probably a reward for him being one of the five men entrusted in completing the first meeting house (church) before the arrival of the bulk of the Newark families.[S69] Retaining his original Lot as his own home, he would have made the second lot available for his other son Edward Riggs Sr and his family when they arrived later in 1667. So Wallace's reference should probably have been to Edward Riggs Sgt's widow conveying to Joseph half of the original 'lots', not 'lot'.

Secondly, this is further supported by the following subsequent patent deed to Mary BOND:

Aug. 10, 1675. Patent. To Mary Bond, formerly the widow of Hugh Roberts of Newark, for land there, viz: 1, a home lot of 6 acres S. of EDWARD RIGGS; 2, sixteen acres of upland at the rear of the homelot, bounded W. by her own and EDW. RIGES lots, N. by Mathew Canfield, E. by Wm. Camp, S. by Nathaniel Wheeler; [S71]

Hugh ROBERTS (Milford 33) is shown by Conger as occupying SE Lot X, which confirms that SE Lot W was in August 1675 occupied by Edward Riggs Sr, son of Edward Riggs Sgt (Hugh Roberts' widow having remarried the only Newark proprietor named BOND, that being Stephen at SW lot F).[S69]

BALDWIN

RICHARD BALDWIN, who died in 1665 prior to the move to Newark [S5] , was associated with Edward Riggs Sr in establishing the Derby Plantation in CT.[S3] RICHARD BALDWIN's daughter SARAH BALDWIN married SAMUEL RIGGS, the middle son of EDWARD RIGGS SGT (SE lot G); Samuel remained in Derby after the rest of his family moved on to Newark. Her sister Elizabeth married ZACHARIAH BURWELL (SW lot G), and one of her other sisters Temperance married Nathan Burwell brother of EPHRAIM BURWELL (SW lot H) and of Zachariah.

JOHN BALDWIN Sr (SE lot L) was Richard's brother, and thus Sarah (Baldwin) Riggs's uncle. In 1653, John took as his second wife Mary daughter of OBADIAH BRUEN (NE lot H). John removed "to Newark NJ but came back to Milford".

JOHN BALDWIN Jr (SE lot N) was the eldest son of JOHN BALDWIN Sr (SE lot L), and thus Sarah (Baldwin) Riggs's cousin. In 1663 he had married Hannah daughter of OBADIAH BRUEN (NE lot H) "sister of the second wife of his father". Hannah "perhaps died soon, as he is said to have died on a voyage unmarried but it may be that her husband was another of the frequent Johns". Savage also refers to another John Baldwin of Milford, the eldest son of Nathaniel who after 1666 "perhaps soon removed to Newark"

BENJAMIN BALDWIN (NW lot J) was born 1642 the second son of Joseph, whose relationship to Richard and John Sr is not apparent from Savage. He married Hannah, sister of JONATHAN SARGEANT (NE lot P), apparently before removing to Newark.

BLATCHLEY

THOMAS BLATCHLEY (Branford 5, no lot listed) "encouraged the removal of others to Newark NJ but did not go"; he was the father of AARON BLATCHLEY (NE lot L).

AARON BLATCHLEY (NE lot L) was the son of THOMAS BLATCHLEY (Branford 5, no lot listed). He married Mary Dod(d), the sister of DANIEL DOD (NW lot U) and SAMUEL DOD (NW lot T), either about 1660 (Savage's note on Mary Dodd's father Daniel) or in 1665 (Savage's note on Aaron Blatchley). Aaron afterwards married about 1686 Sarah, widow of ROBERT FOOTE of Branford. Sarah's son JOSEPH FOOTE married in 1690 the youngest daughter of JOHN JOHNSON (SW lot C).

BROWN

JOHN BROWN Sr (SW lot E) was the father-in-law of JOSEPH RIGGS (SE lot G) who married John's daughter Hannah. He was, says Wallace in his note on Joseph Riggs [S3], one of the planters with Edward at Derby as well as at Newark.

JOHN BROWN Jr (SE lot V) was the son of JOHN BROWN Sr (SW lot E), and thus the brother-in-law of JOSEPH RIGGS (SE lot G). Savage states that John was of the three children of JOHN BROWN Sr all baptised at the same time in 1649, so he was at least 17 when the Agreement was signed and may have been older. Savage quotes another child "John again, born 12 July 1655" (which might imply that the first John had died by then), but recent researchers state that this younger son was a Thomas Brown I would suggest that since christian names were often written in their abbreviated form, and the manuscript writing of the original documents sometimes difficult to decipher, 'Tho' may have been read as 'Jno'.

BRUEN

OBADIAH BRUEN (NE lot H) was the father of Mary, who in 1653 married JOHN BALDWIN Sr (SE lot L) as his second wife, and of Hannah, who in 1663 married JOHN BALDWIN Jr (SE lot N) "son of the husband of her sister".

Obadiah's son JOHN BRUEN, born 1646, moved with his parents to Newark and had three children by his wife Esther, according to Savage. However, he apparently also had a daughter Sarah born 1679, who married ABRAHAM KITCHELL, son of SAMUEL KITCHELL (NE lot C).[S62].

BURWELL

EPHRAIM BURWELL (SW lot H) and ZACHARIAH BURWELL (SW lot G) were brothers, sons of "the first John" (who had been one of the early planters of Milford). In 1663, Zachariah married Elizabeth Baldwin and Savage's note on him states that "from the great host of that name, I am unable to select a father for her". But his note on Richard Baldwin (see above), states that Elizabeth was Richard's daughter, baptised 1644. That being the case, the wives of ZACHARIAH BURWELL (SW lot G) and of SAMUEL RIGGS, the middle son of EDWARD RIGGS SGT (SE lot G), were sisters. Elizabeth's sister Temperance married NATHAN BURWELL, the brother of Ephraim and Zachariah.

CAMFIELD

MATTHEW CAMFIELD (NW lot F) had married Sarah TREAT, sister of Capt. ROBERT TREAT (SE lot A & SW lot B).

SAMUEL CAMFIELD (SW lot Q) had been baptised in 1645 as the son of MATTHEW CAMFIELD (NW lot F) and was made a freeman in 1669.

EBENEZER CAMFIELD (Branford 13, no lot listed) may also have been a son of MATTHEW CAMFIELD (NW lot F), since Matthew's son Ebenezer had been born in 1649, though Matthew is shown as having been a signatory from Milford whereas Ebenezer is shown as having been a signatory from Branford (Samuel was a non-signatory).

CRANE

JASPER CRANE was the father of DELIVERANCE (or DELIVERANCE) CRANE (NW lot P), JOHN CRANE (NE lot O)) and AZARIAH CRANE (later SE lot A).[S28] [S29]

AZARIAH CRANE (later SE lot A) had married Mary the daughter of CAPT. ROBERT TREAT (originally SE lot A).[S28] [S29]

"At the drawing of Home Lots, Feb 6, 1667, Lot 49 fell to the senior Jasper CRANE, No. 40 to Deliverance CRANE, and No. 62 to John CRANE, they being his two eldest sons." [S29]. Savage identifies Deliverance as Jasper's son but does not mention John.

A recent researcher has compiled a descendants chart of Jasper CRANE [S63] which shows them marrying into the following families whose surnames appear in the List of Home Lots: BALDWIN, BRUEN, CAMP, CANFIELD, DODD, HUNTINGTON, JOHNSON, KITCHELL, LAWRENCE, LYON, PENNINGTON, PLUM, RICHARDS, SWAINE, TOMPKINS, TREAT, WARD, WHEELER.

Stephen DAVIS (NE lot M) was the father of JOHN DAVIS (NE lot R).

DAY

GEORGE DAY (SE lot E) had married MARY RIGGS, daughter of EDWARD RIGGS SGT (SE lot G) before removing to Newark, their first son having been born about 1665.[S3].

DENNISON

ROBERT DENISON (SE lot C) is probably the Robert Dennison who had been one of the early planters of Milford and who Wallace refers to as being one of those associated with EDWARD RIGGS SGT (SE lot G) in establishing the Derby Plantation in CT.[S3]

DOD

DANIEL DOD (NW lot U) and SAMUEL DOD (NW lot T) were brothers, whose sister Mary had married AARON BLATCHLEY (NE lot L), the son of THOMAS BLATCHLEY (Branford 5, lot not listed). Thomas failed to move to Newark, and so one of them may have taken over his Lot.

FREEMAN

STEPHEN FREEMAN (SE lot J) had a house lot in Milford in 1646, "but did not become inhabitant until 1658, removed probably to Newark, NJ in few years ... and perhaps he came back to CT."

Martha, the daughter of EDWARD RIGGS SR (SE lot W) born about 1677, married an S. FREEMAN [S3]

HARRISON

SERGEANT RICHARD HARRISON (NW lot B) had sons SAMUEL HARRISON (SE lot U), Benjamin, JOHN HARRISON (presumably NE lot K) who died 1675 unmarried, Joseph, George and Daniel "and removed to Newark NJ where all except John, it is said, were heads of families.". Richard was probably the brother of Mary Harrison who married either THOMAS PIERSON Sr (NW lot I), or THOMAS PIERSON Jr (SE lot T).

JOHN HARRISON (NE lot K) was presumably the John who was one of the sons of SGT RICHARD HARRISON (NW lot B) and brother to SAMUEL HARRISON (SE lot U). However, that John died 1675 unmarried, and was not a head of family: that being the case it would be unusual for him to be allocated a Home Lot.

SAMUEL HARRISON (SE lot U) was one of the sons of SGT RICHARD HARRISON (NW lot B) and presumably brother to JOHN HARRISON (NE lot K).

HUNTINGTON

THOMAS HUNTINGTON (NW lot K) married Hannah, daughter of Jasper CRANE (NW lot H)

THOMAS JOHNSON (SE lot D) is the father of JOSEPH JOHNSON (SW lot L), who was born 1651.

JOHN JOHNSON (SW lot C), son of THOMAS JOHNSON (SE lot D), had 7 children, the last of whom married in 1690 Joseph Foote of Branford; Joseph was the son of Robert Foote of Branford, whose widow married AARON BLATCHLEY (NE lot L) in 1686.

KITCHELL

ROBERT KITCHELL (NE lot F) was the father of SAMUEL KITCHELL (NE lot C). Robert "is called in history the benefactor of Newark".

SAMUEL KITCHELL (NE lot C) according to Savage married an Elizabeth Wakeman in 1657 at New Haven and had three children by 1661. She must have died before Samuel moved to Newark because by then he had married Grace Pierson, daughter of Rev. ABRAHAM PIERSON SR (SE lot B) [S62]. Samuel's son ABRAHAM KITCHELL, born 1679, married Sarah BRUEN, grand-daughter of OBADIAH BRUEN (NE lot H).

LINDSLEY

Savage does not refer to any Francis LINLE or LINDSLEY (SW lot S), but does mention a John LINSLEY who "removed long before 1667 to Branford, when John jr. was there"

Mary, the daughter of EDWARD RIGGS SR (SE lot W) born about 1666, married a JOSEPH LINDSLEY [S3]

LYON

HENRY LYON (SW lot O) was probably the person of that name in Milford 1646 and who married in Fairfield 1652, but his relationship to SAMUEL LYON (SE lot S) and/or THOMAS L LYON (SW lot K), if any, is not stated by Savage. Neither does Savage state the relationship, if any, between SAMUEL LYON and THOMAS L LYON .

Elizabeth, the daughter of EDWARD RIGGS SR (SE lot W) born about 1678, married a JOHN LYON [S3]

MORRIS

THOMAS MORRIS (Milford 32, no lot listed) is the father of JOHN MORRIS (NW lot D, listed as Home Lot 32 'in 1688'). Thomas died in 1673, Savage implying that he died in New Haven. If so, either he left Newark and returned to New Haven or it has been said elsewhere that it is possible that the original records read 'John' instead of 'Thomas', and that Thomas never left Connecticut [S57].

But Savage also states that his son John of New Haven married 3 times, fathered children up until 1687, and died in 1718 (again, by not mentioning Newark, implying all these events were in New Haven).

Thomas, the son of EDWARD RIGGS JR born 1701, married a EUNICE MORRIS, and Thomas's sister Mary, born about 1707 married a DANIEL MORRIS.[S3]

PECK

JEREMIAH PECK (NE lot G) married 12NOV1656 Joanna daughter of ROBERT KITCHELL (NE lot F)

PENNINGTON

EPHRAIM PENNINGTON (SE lot Q) was the brother of Mary, who had married 12APR1666 JONATHAN TOMPKINS (SE lot P).

PIERSON

REV. ABRAHAM PIERSON Sr (SE lot B), of Trinity College Cambridge, became minister in Lynn Nov1640 "to go to settlement at Southampton LI, thence about 1647 went to Branford, and thence in the autumn of 1667, with a part to his congregation to Newark NJ. See his letter to John Winthrop, 3 Mass. Hist. Col. X. 69 and 84.". His daughter Grace married SAMUEL KITCHELL (NE lot C) [S62].

REV. ABRAHAM PIERSON Jr (NW lot G), was one of the sons of ABRAHAM PIERSON Sr (SE lot B) and "had been ordained as colleague(?), with his father at Newark" 4MCH1672. He left Newark in 1692 for CT and "in 1701, was made the first head of Yale college and served until he died 5MAY1707".

THOMAS PIERSON Sr (NW lot I) "was probably brother possibly nephew" of REV. ABRAHAM PIERSON Sr (SE lot B); "married 27NOV1662 Mary daughter of Richard Harrison", probably RICHARD HARRISON (NW lot B), "removed to Newark and died there. He swore allegiance to the Dutch in 1673." However Savage also states that THOMAS PIERSON Jr "married Mary Harrison".

THOMAS PIERSON Jr (SE lot T) was the son of ABRAHAM PIERSON Sr (SE lot B) and was therefore brother to ABRAHAM PIERSON Jr (NW lot G); he "married Mary Harrison, went to Newark from Branford with his father, was called junior was in good esteem, but was dead before 1684". However Savage also states that THOMAS PIERSON Sr married "Mary daughter of Richard Harrison".

Elizabeth, born about 1719 the daughter of JAMES RIGGS (who in turn was born about 1664 the son of EDWARD RIGGS SR (SE lot W)), married a BETHUEL PIERSON [S3]

PLUM

SAMUEL PLUM (NE lot N) had the following children "Elizabeth b. 6JAN1650, Mary 1APR1653, Samuel 2MAY1654, John 28OCT1657, Dorothy 26MAY1660, Josiah 3AUG1662 and Joshua 11MCH1665". too early

Joseph, the son of EDWARD RIGGS JR born about 1703, married a JANE PLUMB [S3]

ROSE

LIEUTENANT SAMUEL ROSE (NW lot R) was the brother of ELIZABETH ROSE, the probable wife of EDWARD RIGGS SGT (SE lot G).

SARGEANT

JONATHAN SARGEANT (NE lot P) was the brother of Hannah, who had married BENJAMIN BALDWIN (NW lot J). Jonathan and Hannah were two of the four children of Jonathan Sargent Sr of Branford, who were all baptised at once 10AUG1651, "some it may be adult".

SWAINE

LIEUTENANT SAMUEL SWAINE (NW lot A), who was a representative in Branford 1663 "as friend of Rev. Mr. Pierson, went with first settlers to Newark NJ and was representative in the first assembly"; one of his daughters Elizabeth married JOSIAH WARD (NE lot D), and another of his daughters Christian (born 1659) married a Nathaniel Ward, probably the son of JOHN WARD Sr (NW lot E).[S57]<

TICHENOR

MARTIN TICHENOR (SE lot I) was probably the Martin Tichenor of New Haven who married 1651 and had 7 children, one of whom Daniel was born 1656. However, Martin's relationship to DANIEL TICHENOR (Milford 17. no lot listed) cannot be confirmed, since Martin's son Daniel would have been only 10 when the Founding Agreement was signed, though the view has been expressed to me by one researcher that that was not impossible because the Agreement was not a legal document as such.

TOMPKINS

DEACON MICHA or MICHAEL TOMPKINS (SE lot O) had been one of the early planters of Milford. He was the father of JONATHAN TOMPKINS (SE lot P) baptised 1643, and SETH TOMPKINS (SE lot R) born 1649. Jonathan's wife Mary was the sister of EPHRAIM PENNINGTON (SE lot Q).

TREAT

CAPTAIN ROBERT TREAT (SE lot A), who returned to Connecticut where he subsequently served two long terms as Governor, was the father of JOHN TREAT (SW lot M) and Capt.Treat's daughter Mary married AZARIAH CRANE (later SE lot A).[S20] [S21]

Robert's sister Sarah married MATTHEW CAMFIELD (NW lot F), who was the father of SAMUEL CAMFIELD (SW lot Q) and probably of EBENEZER CAMFIELD (Branford 13, no lot listed).

DEACON LAWRENCE WARD (NE lot A) was the brother of George Ward and therefore the uncle of JOHN WARD JR (NW lot N) [S57]. Lawrence "removed to Branford 1646, was brother of George of the same, in 1661 was employed by the government of New Haven to search for the Regicides, Whalley and Goffe, at Milford, where it was probably known they were not to be seen; representative 1665 and 6, after which he removed to NJ and died 1671 at Newark".

JOHN WARD Jr (NW lot N), the turner, is said to be the nephew of LAWRENCE WARD (NE lot A).[S57] A John Ward drew a lot at Branford in 1663, and "in 1665, united with the other John and many others in projected removal to NJ" It is assumed this refers to JOHN WARD Jr rather than JOHN WARD Sr (NW lot E)

JOHN WARD Sr (NW lot E) is presumably Sereant John Ward of Branford who "was representative 1666, may have been there many years and one of the signers of the new plantation and church covenant Jan1668"; his six children included 3 sons - John born 1650, Nathaniel, and Josiah born 1661; "he removed soon after to NJ". Nathaniel, John's son, was probably the NATHANIEL WARD who married Christian, daughter of LIEUT. SAMUEL SWAINE (NW lot A).

JOSIAH WARD (NE lot D), referpurple to by Savage as Joshiah, drew a lot at Branford in 1660, "and perhaps was son of George of the same". Thus Joshiah perhaps was a nephew of LAWRENCE WARD (NE lot A), George's brother. Josiah married Elizabeth, daughter of LIEUT. SAMUEL SWAINE (NW lot A).

WHEELER

NATHANIEL WHEELER (SE lot F) was the son of Thomas Wheeler, who had been one of the early planters of Milford and who later "owned much estate in Derby".

Nathaniel married 27Jne1665 "~~Esther~~ daughter I presume, of Henry Botsford, and he removed to Newark NJ as did her younger sister Ruth, who married John Baldwin" The reference to Ruth marrying John Baldwin is also made in Savage's note on Henry Botsford (who had also been one of the early planters of Milford), but no record of it can be found under any of Savage's notes on the many John Baldwins.

The Founders And Builders Of The Oranges The Harrison Family

RICHARD HARRISON, the ancestor of the Newark family of this name, came from Cheshire, England, and was one of the original settlers of the New Haven Colony, also one of the proprietors of the Totoket plantation, subsequently named Branford, where he died October 25, 1653. His children were: Richard, Samuel, Mary (or Maria), married, November 27, 1662, Thomas Pierson, Sr. (brother of Rev. Abraham), and Elizabeth.

The NEWARK Settler.

SERGEANT RICHARD HARRISON, eldest son of Richard Harrison (1), was born, probably in England. He was one of the committee sent to Newark "to order and settle the concernments and people of the place till another committee be chosen and settled." He was one of the Branford signers of the Fundamental Agreement. In 1668, as appears by the Newark Records, "the Town hath bargained with Deacon Ward, Serg't Richard Harrison and Serg't Edward Rigs for the sum of seventeen Pounds, to build the same Meeting House according to the Dementions agreed upon, &c." On August 24, 1670, "the Town made a full agreement with Mr. Robert Treat and Serg't Rich'd Harrison about the Building and Maintaining of a sufficient Corn Mill, to be set upon the Little Brook called the Mill Brook." Sergeant Richard Harrison was nominated for Ensign, August 30, 1673. He was elected one of the Town's Men, March 19, 1674. On April 17, 1676, he was chosen one of a "Committee to lay out the Highway and the Landing Place by the River." At a Town Meeting, May 16, 1683, "Whereas, there was a Covenant made with Mr. Robert Treat and Serg't Richard Harrison to make and maintain a sufficient Corn Mill, upon such conditions as is in a Covenant exprest, made between them, the said Treat and Richard Harrison, and the Town, recorded in the Town Book, fol. 29. Be it known that I, Richard Harrison, having bought Mr. Treat's part of the Mill, and am obliged, according to the Covenant and conditions thereof af's'd, have formerly and do now again, make over all my Right to the Mill unto my sons Samuel, Joseph and George Harrison, they being become obliged unto the Town, in all particulars mentioned in the said Covenant, to observe and keep the same in all respects as fully as I, the said Richard Harrison, was obliged to. And the said Samuel, Joseph and George Harrison have and do declare in the Town Meeting, their acceptance of the Mill upon the same Conditions as is in the said Covenant exprest." The children of Sergeant Richard Harrison were: Samuel, Joseph, born 1649; John, Benjamin, born 1655; George, born 1658; Daniel, born 1661; Mary, born 1664, married Samuel Pierson, Jr.

SECOND GENERATION. Line of Sergeant Richard, of NEWARK.

SAMUEL HARRISON, eldest son of Sergeant Richard, came to Newark with his father. He drew his home Lott, No. 2, in May 1673, and had evidently just reached his majority. In August of that year he was nominated for Ensign. On March 22, 1683, Samuel Harrison, Azariah CRANE, Joseph Riggs and Edward Ball "are chosen to lay out the Bounds between us and Hockquecanung and to make no other Agreement with them of any other Bounds than what was formerly." Samuel Harrison (1), married Mary Ward, daughter of Sergeant John Ward. Their children were: Mary, Samuel (2), John, Sarah, Susanna and Eleanor.

THIRD GENERATION.

(2), son of Samuel (1) and Mary (Ward) Harrison, was born in Newark, in 1684. He settled at the Mountain in what is now Orange, in 1723. The old homestead, erected by him, is still in a good state of preservation. It is situated on Wigwam Brook, about two hundred yards west of Day Street, on Washington Street, and a little east of the new school house. It is partly concealed by a new building in front. The old well, with the well sweep, is between the two houses. On the corner stone of the foundation underneath the front of the house is the following inscription: "S.H., 1723."

A few feet east of the homestead stood the old saw mill and beyond this the fulling mill. This was a part of the farm owned by Samuel (1), his father. In his will, dated January 7, 1712-13, he gives to his son Samuel "fifty acres bounded on the north by lands of Anthony Olive, on the south by lands of widow Abigail Ward, on the east by the highway and the west by the Mountain." The first reference to the mill of Samuel (2) is found in his account book, the charge being: "1729, June 16, to sawing for scool house, 00.5.6." He exercised the quadruple functions of magistrate, farmer, fuller and sawyer. He was withal a loyal rent-payer as appears from a petition addressed to Gov. Belcher in 1749, and signed by Nathaniel Wheeler, Jonathan Pierson, John Condit and others, asserting their loyalty and vindication themselves against an implied connection with recent disturbances and riots. Samuel Harrison's saw mill was the only one in this locality for some years and he probably did the sawing for most of the houses built here. The entries in his day-book show that in July, 1748, he was sawing "oke plank, gice, slepers" and other material, and also receiving sundry sums of money "on account of the parsonage." Samuel Harrison married Jemima Williams (born 1686), daughter of Matthew Williams. Their children were: Amos, born 1712; Jemima, born 1714, married John Dod; Mary, born 1716, married _____ Ward; Samuel (3), born 1718; Adonijah, born 1721; Ruth, born 1723; Matthew, born 1726; Eleanor, born 1729.

FOURTH GENERATION. Line of Amos, eldest child of Samuel (2), son of Samuel (1).

eldest child of Samuel (2) and Jemima (Williams) Harrison, was born at the homestead, on Washington Street, within the present boundaries of Orange, in 1712. His name appears on the list of Essex County Militia, who served in the War of the Revolution. He purchased from the executors of Caleb CRANE a large tract of land on the south side of the Northfield Road, extending to the summit of the mountain, a portion of which is still owned by his descendants. He married Hannah Johnson and had issue, Reuben; Isaac; Simeon, born 1741; Eleanor; Martha; ~~Jemima~~; Ruth, married John Munn.

FIFTH GENERATION.

Simeon Harrison, third child of Amos and Hannah (Johnson) Harrison, was born at the homestead of his father, on the Northfield Road, in 1741. He married Hannah, daughter of Caleb CRANE (son of Azariah (3), of Azariah (2), of Deacon Azariah -- who married the daughter of Gov. Treat, son of Jasper CRANE, the ancestor). Their children were: Caleb, born 1770, Phebe, born 1774, married Noah Matthews; John; Hannah; Sarah, born 1783, married Joseph Matthews.

SIXTH GENERATION.

CALEB HARRISON, ELDEST CHILD OF Simeon and Hannah (CRANE) Harrison, was born at the homestead on Northfield Road, in 1770, died 1854. He built, in 1808, the present brick house which stands near the entrance of the Northfield Road. He married Ketmah, daughter of Isaac CRANE, and had children, Simeon, born 1792, died 1799; Mary; Phebe; Margaret, married Joel W. Condit; Simeon, again, born 1804; Hannah, married Rev. William R. Whittingham; Phebe.

SEVENTH GENERATION.

SIMEON HARRISON, fifth child of Caleb and Ketmah (CRANE) Harrison, was born at the homestead of his father, in what is now West Orange, February, 1804; he died March 20, 1872. He attended the village school and had the advantages of a higher education at the Bloomfield Academy, a noted school in its day. He was a born leader of men, and no man ever lived in this community who exerted a stronger influence. Bold, courageous, honest and upright, he commanded respect, and yet by his kind, genial disposition, he won the confidence of his fellow-men. He was a democrat of the old Jeffersonian school and was known throughout the State as one of the staunchest supporters of his party. He was in public office nearly all his life at a time when the office sought the man, and not the man the office. In the campaign of 1856 he was sent as a delegate by his party to the National Democratic Convention, at Cincinnati, when James Buchanan was nominated for President. At the fall election of 1858 he was elected as a representative of the Second Assembly District to the State Legislature. While faithfully representing his constituents in local matters, he could rise above all party ties when any great principle was at stake and, while loyal to his party, was in no sense a partisan. It was largely through his efforts that the new charter for Orange was obtained in 1860, and he was elected a member of the first Common Council under this charter. After the separation of the Oranges he became a member of the West Orange Township Committee. He was a most exemplary and worthy representative of the Masonic Fraternity, and no worthy distressed brother ever appealed to him in vain. He was seldom absent from the stated communications of Union Lodge, of which he was for forty-six years an honored member, passing through the several chairs, serving as Worshipful Master in 1852-3 and again in 1864. He was an excellent presiding officer and a skillful craftsman. Mr. Harrison's charities were not confined to his Masonic brethren. He recognized the fact that "The poor ye have with you always.", and his well-filled larder could always be relied upon to supply the wants of the needy. He was a man of positive convictions, but not self-assertive. He was well informed on all the topics of the day and ready at all times to meet an opponent in open, fair combat. He was respected alike by friend and foe and admired for his many noble qualities of heart and mind.

Mr. Harrison married Abby Maria, daughter of Stephen Condit. They had one child, Abby Maria, who married Samuel O. Rollinson, a grandson of William Rollinson, one of the first--if not the first--steel engraver in this country. He came to this country just previous to or during the Revolution and it is said that he engraved the buttons on Washington's military coat. He engraved, in 1808, a portrait on steel of Gen. Alexander Hamilton -- one of the best likenesses of Hamilton, it is said, ever made.

SEVENTH GENERATION.

Samuel O. Rollinson, the grandson, was connected with the Atlantic White Lead Co. for about forty years, part of the time as a partner. After his marriage with Miss Condit in 1869, he came to West Orange and resided at the home of his father-in-law and became interested to a considerable extent in public affairs. He was for a long time a member of the Township Committee of West Orange and was also its chairman. He continued to reside in the old homestead until his death in August, 1891. He left four children. Simeon Harrison, the eldest, born at the homestead in 1870, educated at Princeton and graduated at the New York Law School in 1896 and read law in the office of Blake and Howe. He has already become interested in public affairs of his native town and has served as chairman of the Township Committee of West Orange. Phebe Harrison and Margaret Stymita, the two daughters of Samuel O. Rollinson, reside at the homestead. William, the youngest son, is a student at Princeton.

FOURTH GENERATION.

Line of Matthew, son of Samuel (2), son of Samuel (1).

MATTHEW HARRISON, seventh child of Samuel (2) and Jemima (Williams) Harrison, was born at the homestead in Orange, in 1726. He served with the New Jersey militia in the War of the Revolution. He married Martha Dod and had issue, Abijah; Aaron, born 1753; Amos, Adonijah; Mary.

FIFTH GENERATION.

AARON HARRISON, eldest child of Matthew and Martha (Dod) HARRISON, was born at the homestead of his father, on the Swinefield Road, in 1753. He also served with the New Jersey militia in the War of the Revolution. The military spirit continued long after the war and he was elected Major of a battalion of light horse composed of seven companies, every man furnishing his own uniform and equipments, at a cost of one hundred dollars each. It is said that the first farm wagon ever used in this locality was brought here by Major HARRISON. He was a man of good judgment and sound common sense, and had the confidence and respect of his neighbors. He was twice married, first to Jemima, third child of Daniel and Ruth (HARRISON) Cundict. [Ruth was the daughter of Samuel HARRISON (2).] He married, second, Phebe, daughter of Lewis CRANE, son of Elihu, son of Jasper (3), son of Jasper (2), son of Jasper (1), one of the original Newark settlers. The wife of Lewis CRANE was a cousin of Rev. Aaron Burr. The children of Aaron and Phebe (CRANE) HARRISON were: Samuel A.; Charles; Matilda; Phebe; Jemima, married Caleb W. Baldwin, Ira, born January 4, 1795; Aaron Burr, Abigail; and Mary.

SIXTH GENERATION.

IRA HARRISON, SON OF Aaron and Phebe (CRANE) HARRISON, was born at his father's homestead, near that of his grandfather, January 4, 1795, died March 5, 1890. He was one of the most important connecting links between the past and present, and lived to see the great changes that have been wrought in his native town. He lived a useful, honored life and died in the full enjoyment of a bright Christian faith. He was one of the most enterprising farmers in this vicinity and was quick to adopt any improvements. He loved the good old customs, but was not averse to the new. He kept himself well abreast of the times. The old ox team might do for his neighbors, but he preferred a good team of horses. He was no doubt envied by his neighbors whom he was able to drive around in his own horse and wagon, he being the first to introduce this new method of locomotion in the Oranges. He lived to witness the feats of the iron horse and all the improved methods of travel. It was as a Christian and a gentleman, however, that he wielded the greatest influence. He was long an elder and a bright and shining light in the old First Presbyterian Church. His was no formal, but a thorough practical Christianity. He carried a sanctified purse and gave liberally when and where it was needed, and could always be relied upon to bear his full share of the burdens. He was tender and affectionate as husband and father, and loved, honored and respected by his neighbors. Although well advanced in years, he showed his patriotism and loyalty during the war by attending the public meetings and encouraging enlistments. Mr. HARRISON married Mary, daughter of Ichabod Jones, born Dec 27, 1798, son of Joseph (2) born 1737, son of Joseph (1), born 1631, son of John Jones, the ancestor of the Jones family of East Orange. The children of Ira and Mary (Jones) HARRISON were: Aaron; Rhoda A.; Samuel; Matilda; John; Phebe C., married Josiah B. Williams; Alfred F., William L.; Mary E., married Capt. Ambrose M. Matthews; and Frederick J.

SEVENTH GENERATION.

ALFRED HARRISON, M.D., son of Ira and Mary (Jones) HARRISON, was born at the homestead of his father, in Orange, September 9, 1833. He was prepared for college at Pierson's school, in Elizabeth, and was graduated at Princeton in 1855; pursued his medical studies at the University of Michigan, and the University Medical College of New York, and for twenty-five years was engaged in a successful practice in New York, which he relinquished some years since in consequence of failing health, and returned to Orange, the place of his birth. Mr. HARRISON married Sarah Elizabeth Matthews, a sister of Capt. Ambrose Matthews.

AARON BURR HARRISON, seventh child of Aaron and Phebe (CRANE) HARRISON, was born September 18, 1796, at the homestead of his father, which stood on the present site of the Edison factory, on Valley Road. He was excessively fond of reading and study, and his parents desired to fit him for the ministry, and for his preparatory course he was sent to the Bloomfield Academy, intending to enter Princeton College. He changed his mind, however, preferring the simple farm life which his ancestors had followed. He had never united with any church and could not accept the extreme orthodox theological views required by the religious institutions of that day, and he was not ambitious to enter any other profession. He was associated for a time with his brother-in-law, John Randall, in surveying, and assisted in laying out a number of lots in the upper part of New York City. In his public and private life he was above reproach, and few men--even professing Christians--have ever lived nearer to the golden rule. He inherited a part of the home-stead property and acquired additional acres, owning at one time about one hundred acres in different parts of Orange. His largest holdings extended from near the centre of Llewellyn Park some distance beyond the line of the Watchung branch of the Erie R.R. He cultivated his farm for many years until the rise in values made it no longer profitable. He sold some fifteen or twenty acres in Llewellyn Park to Mr. Haskell, and by degrees parted with much of his other property. Soon after disposing of his property in Llewellyn Park, he removed to the old Cyrus Jones homestead, on Main Street, East Orange, opposite the Munn Avenue Presbyterian Church, the birthplace of his wife. Here he spent the remainder of his days in peace and happiness, respected by his neighbors and honored by his fellow-citizens.

He was always known as Major HARRISON, having early in life received his commission as Major of the Orange Infantry regiment. He possessed all the elements of leadership and his judgment was never questioned. Until the breaching out of the Civil War he was a Jackson democrat, but the action of the South in seceding from the Union aroused all the latent patriotism of his nature and he became one of the most ardent supporters of the government, doing all in his power to encourage enlistments and assist those who entered the ranks of the Union army. From the beginning of the war to the close of his life he continued in the ranks of the Republican Party. While never especially active in local or State politics he was a man whose fitness for positions of honor and trust was universally acknowledged, and before the division of the Oranges he served on the township Committee, acted as Township Treasurer, was for many years a member and director of the Board of Chosen Freeholders. In public life he did everything he could to encourage and help along the growth of his native town. He welcomed the business man from the city who came here to seek a home, and was heartily in favor of every improvement desired by the new-comers. He believed in having good roads, well lighted streets and above all, the best educational facilities for the masses that could be provided, and willingly submitted to increased taxation for that purpose. He gave the land for the village school which stood on the site of the present hotel on Valley Road, near Washington Street. In this little village schoolhouse his own children were instructed in the rudimentary branches. In the march of improvement when better facilities were required, the little schoolhouse was removed and is now used as a barn on the premises of Mrs. Dunton, a daughter of Mr. HARRISON, who resides with her sister Caroline in the pretty cottage erected by her late husband, situated on Valley road, facing Washington Street.

During the latter years of his life Mr. HARRISON was occupied mostly in the care of his real estate. He was for many years a member of the Board of Directors of the Orange National Bank and a regular attendant at its meeting. He was a man of domestic tastes and very fond of his home and children. He married, about 1821, Caroline, daughter of Cyrus Jones, son of Cornelius, of Joseph (2), of Joseph (1), son of John Jones, the ancestor. Their children were: Cyrus Jones married Harriet Simmons; Phebe Jones, married William Dunster, of Morris County, NJ, died September 5, 1885; Lydia Louisa, married Dr. C.A. Lindsley, a distinguished physician of New Haven, CT, and Secretary of the Connecticut State Hospital from 1865 to 1877. He is a native of Orange, son of John Lindsley, of Daniel, of Nathaniel, of Ebenezer (2), of Ebenezer (1), of Francis, of the Newark Colony, son of John the Branford ancestor.

Matilda, the third child of Aaron Burr HARRISON, married Henry Powles, of East Orange. Their children are: Charles Van Zandt, deceased; Aaron Burr; Caroline; Harriet.

Cyrus Jones HARRISON, the eldest, recently purchased a farm in Maryland. His eldest child, Cyrus Melville, resides with him, assisting in the management of the farm. He has had other children vis.: Ida Lydia; Herbert, died young; Josephine' Samuel, deceased.

Charles Van Zandt, the fifth child of Aaron Burr and Caroline (Jones) HARRISON, left two children: Aaron Burr and Charles Herbert.

AMOS HARRISON, second child of Matthew and Martha (Dod) HARRISON, was born at the homestead in Orange, September 10, 1755. He was a man of more than ordinary ability and held positions of trust and honor in the county. He was commissioned Major of Essex Battalion, June 5, 1793, was Justice of the Peace for a long term of years. He was appointed Judge of the court of Common Pleas in 1813, and held that position until his death. He was made Presidential elector in 1808, casting his vote for James Madison. He was elected elder of the First Presbyterian Church in 1799, continuing for some years. He lived on the Valley Road, in the house now known as "Walnut Cottage". He married, first, Martha Condit, daughter of Col. David Condit. He married, second, Sarah (Munn) Dodd, widow of Matthew Dodd. His children all by his first wife, were: Keturah, born October 31, 1771, died young; Japhia, born September 7, 1776; Keturah, again, born April 16, 1779, died young; Johanna and David, twins, born June 10, 1781; Daniel, born September 10, 1783; Bethuel, born February 8, 1789; Amos, born January 9, 1791; Abiathar, born March 9, 1793; Rhoda, born October 19, 1795.

ABIATHAR HARRISON was born at the homestead of his father, in Orange, March 9, 1793, died January 31, 1867. He was a man of high standing in the community. He served two terms in the State Legislature and held other public positions. He married, first, Phebe Freeman, June 25, 1813; second, Elizabeth, daughter of Caleb Williams, November 28, 1816. His children were: Phebe, born November 25, 1817; Sarah, born December 20, 1819; died December 24, 1878; Susan Elizabeth, born January 29, 1822, married Nathan W. Pierson; Mary Adeline, born May 9, 1825; Harriet Newell, born March 20, 1828; Albert Williams, born January 21, 1831; Amos, born January 20, 1834, died July 27, 1840.

Mary Adeline HARRISON, daughter of Abiathar, married Joseph Duryea HARRISON, born July 3, 1822, a descendant of Joseph, son of Sergeant Richard HARRISON. They had issue: Alexander Lee; Elizabeth A.; Henry Lewis; Harriet Newell; Amy Duryea; Helen Mary.

Albert W. HARRISON, son of Abiathar, was born January 21, 1831. He married Angeline CRANE, daughter of Ira CRANE, a descendant of Jasper through Azariah CRANE. Albert W. resides in Fairfax County, VA. His children are: Clara Billings; Margaret Norwood; Mary Curtis and Albert Russell.

Line of Joseph HARRISON, son of Sergeant Richard.

JOSEPH HARRISON, second son of Sergeant Richard HARRISON and brother of Samuel, was born at Milford, in 1649, and came with his parents to Newark. The Newark Records show that "On June 13, 1679, fifty-nine acres of upland were surveyed to Joseph HARRISON." It was bounded "on the north by the lands of Benjamin HARRISON (brother of Joseph) and on the northwest by Perroth's Brook." He had one hundred acres fronting on the north side of the highway, now Main Street, from a point two hundred and fifty feet west of Ridge Street to Parrow Brook and bounded on the north by land of Amos Williams. This probably included the land of his brother Benjamin. He married Dorcas Ward, daughter of Sergeant John Ward, and had Richard; Joseph; Stephen, Nathaniel; Elizabeth, married Caleb Baldwin; Phebe, married John Ward; Mary.

THE BALL FAMILY

The Ball family is English. The earliest 'American' members came first to Connecticut, and then to New Jersey where Edward Ball was one of the original founders of Newark, New Jersey. It was in New Jersey, two Generations later that the Balls married into my Searing Family Based on research provided by Patsy Putnam (no relationship), gives the early English history of the Ball family. It goes back into the mid 1400s.

WILLIAM BALL

William Ball was born about 1450, married about 1470 and died in 1480. His entire life was spent in Barkham, Berkshire County. We have no idea as to whom he married, nor a listing of all his children. We do know he had at least one son, Robert Ball.

ROBERT BALL

Robert was born in Barkham about 1475. Again we do not know his wife's name. He died in 1543 and had at least two children: William Ball born in 1505 and Edward Ball born in 1507.

WILLIAM BALL

William was born about 1505 in Wokingham, Berkshire. He married in the early 1520s, and again no name has popped up. He died in Wokingham about 1550.

JOHN BALL

John was born in Wokingham about 1525. He was married three times. To Agnes Hathoway, Alice Haynes and Mary Pace. It seems his children all came through Agnes Hathoway whom he married in about 1546. Agnes was born about 1529 and was a daughter of Richard Hathoway of Wokingham. The children were:

John Ball 1548, Robert Ball 1553, Thomas Ball 1555, Edith Ball 1562, Alis Ball 1570, George Ball 1576, Martha Ball 1579 and Rachel Ball 1583.

JOHN BALL II

This John Ball was born May 5, 1548 in Wokingham. He married Elizabeth Webb in about 1566.

Elizabeth was born about 1550 and was a daughter of Thomas Webb of Ruscombe, Berkshire.

Elizabeth was born about 1550 and was a daughter of Thomas Webb of Ruscombe, Berkshire.

ALLING BALL II

Alling (or Allen) Junior was born in England in about 1617 and came to America as a young boy. He married Dorothy Fugill in Branford (New Haven Colony) in about 1640. It is stated he died in 1716, which if true was rather remarkable in those days. Take that date with a grain of salt.

Their children were:

EDWARD BALL born in 1642. This is our line.

JOHN BALL born April 15, 1649 and died January 1, 1730. He married Sarah Glover

DOROTHY BALL born about 1654. She married George Pardee on February 10, 1675.

She died in East Haven August 13, 1684.

Robert was born in England about 1472. Again we do not know the wife's name.
He died in 1503 and had at least two children: William Ball born in 1505 and Edward Ball born in 1507.
WILLIAM BALL
William was born about 1505 in Wiltshire, England. He is known in the early 1530s, and again his name has popped up. He died in Wiltshire about 1550.
JOHN BALL
John was born in Wiltshire about 1525. He was married three times. To Agnes Hillaway,
Alice Haysen and Mary Hill. It seems that he was a clerk through Agnes Hillaway's whom he married in about 1545. John was born about 1525 and was a clerk of Richard Hillaway of Wiltshire.
The children were John Ball 1548, Robert Ball 1553, Thomas Ball 1558, Edith Ball 1561,
Alice Ball 1562, George Ball 1566, Matthew Ball 1569 and Rachel Ball 1571.
JOHN BALL II
This John Ball was born May 2, 1546 in Wiltshire. He married Elizabeth Webb in about 1566.
George was born about 1566 and was a daughter of Thomas Webb of Wiltshire, England.

ALLING BALL II
Alling (or Allyn) Ball was born in England in about 1517 and came to America as a young boy. He married Mary Tupper in England (from Haverhill County) in about 1540. It is stated he died in 1546, which I can not either remember in that date. This Ball was with a grain of salt.
Their children were:
EDWARD BALL born in 1547. This is our line.
JOHN BALL born April 15, 1548 and died January 1, 1598. He married Sarah Glover.
December 11, 1578 in New Haven.
ELPHALET BALL born February 11, 1581 and died July 11, 1657. He married
Hannah
Hill January 13, 1603.
COROTHY BALL born about 1624. She married George Fiske and January 10, 1652.
She died in New Haven August 12, 1684.

MERCY BALL born in April 1654. I have her with the identical info as for Dorothy so they are either the same gal or someone of them is listed wrongly.

ALLING BALL III born June 27, 1656 and died in 1710. He married Sarah Thompson

November 24, 1878.

LYDIA BALL born January 17, 1660.

SARAH BALL born January 17, 1660. Either twins or more confusing info.

EDWARD BALL

Edward Ball was born about 1642, probably in Connecticut. I have found conflicting accounts as to whether he was born in England or in the New Haven Colony. He lived in Branford, Connecticut and there married Abigail Blatchley in about 1664.

Abigail Blatchley was a daughter of Thomas Blatchley and Susannah Ball. Abigail was born in Connecticut in about 1649. Her parents were married in Connecticut in about 1644. Thomas Blatchley was born in Wales in 1615 and came from England to Boston on the ship 'Hopewell' which sailed from London on July 28th, 1635. There were only four passengers on this small sailing vessel. Thomas Blatchley had travelled to Hartford by 1640 and to the New Haven Colony by 1643 and then moved to Branford in the New Haven Colony in 1644. When he first arrived in Boston, he was probably conscripted and fought in the Pequot War of Central Connecticut in 1637. This was what probably brought him to the Hartford Area in the first place; many of the soldiers seemed to have acquired land grants in the general area of Weathersfield as a result of this service and the resulting English victory.

He eventually moved back to Boston where he died in the summer of 1674. His widow, Susannah Ball Blatchley remarried a Richard Bristow in Boston. Susannah was born in England in 1622 and died near Boston in December 1677.

On October 20, 1666, a group of people from Branford signed an agreement to move to the new colony in New Jersey and to form a town to be called Newark. The English had just acquired the area surrounding New York from the Dutch and were very anxious to establish new English

*Not true. First name was
M. Ball*

communities as fast as possible. It was at the same time that my Marsh family moved from Milford in the New Haven Colony to help establish the new town of Elizabethtown (now Elizabeth, New Jersey) adjacent to Newark. Edward Ball and Thomas Blatchley both signed the agreement, but it seems the Blatchleys did not actually go. In 1667 the Ball family moved to Newark on New York Bay. Everyone was assigned a six acre house lot in the new town. Edward Ball's lot was number 70. The land lay between Broad and Washington Streets, which is the site of Park Street in Newark today. Also among the founders of Newark was Stephen Davis (lot number 58), whose granddaughter Sarah married Edward Ball's son Thomas. Edward Riggs, who is also my 8th great grandfather, but on my mother's side, was also a founder and was assigned lot number 23 and his brother Joseph Riggs was on lot number 7. It seems like a small world, and in those days it was just that. Edward was prominent in local government and was appointed High Sheriff of Essex County in 1693. He probably died there sometime after 1724. The last record of him was in 1724 when he was in his early eighties. Abigail Ball had died there sometime after 1688 and probably before her husband as no will was left. The following is a brief recap of what I know about the children of Edward and Abigail Ball.

CALEB BALL was born in Branford Connecticut in about 1665. Based on a deed, we know his wife was Sarah Thompson, they were married in 1684. He was alive at least through 1716. Sarah was alive in 1706. They had two sons, Caleb and John and the family lived in the Millbrook area of Newark.

ABIGAIL BALL was born in Newark about 1667. She married Daniel HARRISON and moved somewhat west of Newark. The children I have records of are Lydia, Abigail, Daniel 2nd, Moses and Jonathan HARRISON. She died December 1, 1738.

JOSEPH BALL was born in about 1673 as he died at age 60 on April 25, 1733. He first married Hannah ~~HARRISON~~ who died in about 1711, and they had three children (Hannah, Daniel and Joseph 2nd). He then married an Elizabeth and they had four more children (Rebecca, Jonathan, Samuel and Isaac). He inherited his father's estate in Newark. This original 6 acre plot remained in the Ball family until it was sold in 1849.

LYDIA BALL was born in 1676 and died on August 22, 1742 in her 66th year.

She married

~~Joseph Peck~~. Joseph was a blacksmith and a church deacon. They lived on Washington Street in Newark. Their children were Joseph Peck, Sarah Peck, Ruth Seward, Mary

Dowd, Elizabeth Peck and Timothy Peck.

THOMAS BALL is my line and covered in the next section.

MOSES BALL was born about 1685 and died April 20, 1747. He married Mary Tichener about 1705. They had no children and lived in Newark.

ELSE BALL is not listed in genealogies that I have seen as a child, but I figure that she had to be. Later after her marriage, Simon Searing's will makes reference to his brother-in-law, Thomas Ball. Therefore I assume that Alse was Thomas' sister and as such a daughter of Edward Ball. Alse is also in my Searing line and her story is contained in my Searing Family History in this work.

THOMAS BALL

Thomas was born in Newark in 1688. About 1712, he married Sarah Davis in Newark. Sarah was born in 1689 and was a daughter of Thomas Davis and Mary Ball. In 1715 - 1716, Thomas

Ball was a Constable a very prestigious position at the time. Thomas was a blacksmith by trade and lived in Newark all his life. He wrote his will on March 19, 1742/3 and he died in Newark on October 18, 1744.

The following is an abstract of his will taken from the New Jersey Archives:

1742-3, march 19, BALL, THOMAS of Newark, Essex County, blacksmith, will of. Children

Timothy, Aaron, Nathaniel, David, Ezekiel, Jonas, Thomas, Amos, Moses, Apphia wife of Simon

Searing, Mary and Rachel Ball, the last two under 18 years. Real and Personal estate. Executors

- wife Sarah and son Timothy. Inventory of personal estate made on November 14, 1744 totalled in excess of 378 pounds sterling.

The will was probated on November 29, 1744. Thomas Ball died near Hilton, New Jersey but was buried in Newark. His headstone reads:

Here lies ye body of Thomas Ball, Dec'd Oct. ye 18th 1744 in ye 57th year of his age. Here lies an aged man of four years old. Beloved Wife and Children Dear, Remember now I am gone.

The 'aged man of four years' refers to the fact that four years before his death he became converted to religion. He had been 'born again' four years earlier.

Sarah Davis Ball was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Davis. The next main section deals with the Davis Family History. Sarah was born in 1690 in Newark. Sarah died in Newark, Essex County, New Jersey on February 1, 1778 at the age of 87 years.

Sarah's tombstone has the following inscription:

Here lies ye Body of Sarah Wife of Thomas BALL deceased who died February ye 1 A.D.

1778 In the 88th year of her age. The Dame that lies beneath this tomb had Rachel's Beauty, Leah's fruitful womb, Abigail's Wisdom, Lydia's Faithful Heart, Martha's just Trust and Mary's better part.

Thomas and Sarah Lived on lands between Hilton and Jefferson Village in New Jersey. He died near the site of TUSCAN HALL, which was built by his son Ezekiel. Descendents of his son Moses Ball founded the Ball Fruit Jar Company and established Ball State University in Ohio.

The following were their children:

TIMOTHY BALL born October 26, 1711 and died January 9, 1758. He married

Esther

Bruen in December 1734. He was a farmer and lived near South Orange, New Jersey.

They had 11 children: Sarah, a daughter, Charity, Eunice, Mary (died young), John, Uzal,

Daniel DODD

Daniel Dod, baptised at Ware, Suffolk, England, on October 15, 1643, arrived in the city of Thomas Hooker.

by Nathan Dodd and Rev. Joseph Richard Fernald. Secretary of the New Haven Historical Society, Stamford, Ct., 1840, profile page vi.

Daniel Dodd and his wife Mary appear in Stamford, Connecticut, as early as 1647 or 1648. This does not necessarily mean that they came over from England together. There is strong evidence that Daniel was born in Essex or Suffolk, England, but with no evidence as to what year he came to America. History shows that there was heavy immigration to New England between 1630 and 1640 and he may have crossed the ocean during that period between the ages of thirty and thirty-five, meeting Mary among the New England settlers after he arrived there. Among a number of "sermons of the first church", preached at New Haven in June, 1651, we find two names as Mary, Hannah, and Daniel Dod. These were certainly the three oldest children of Daniel Dod, who is called Mary in the record of Rev. Stephen Dodd.

Something that we took the name from the Bradford Records, which, in the town of Bradford, their own people, should be more exact than the New Haven records.
We could not get Mary. However it strongly affirms in Rev. Stephen's list of the children of Daniel Dod, though he copies it wrongly as the record of Stephen Dodd of Guilford, in which the sister, "Mary" is written. It is mentioned elsewhere that some Hannah also was baptised at New Haven. As a fact it was not Stephen Dodd tradition his cousin, Mary Wheeler. It may be indicated that the wife of the first Daniel Dod was a Wheeler. This, however, is to be taken as a mere conjecture or conclusion. A more large discovery of documentary evidence concerning the life of Rev. Stephen Dodd by the evidence in the New Haven Records, we did not find the children of Daniel and Mary Dod.

Daniel Dodd between 1647 and 1650, with the number of 1648, he appears in a New England Dod is a private letter from the records of the personal activity, including "the what in the ground," and with some say in 1648, and they were then buried in Bradford. The children that are baptised at Bradford between 1648 and 1650 and Stephen, who died in 1650.

After the death of the son of the son, being of course, gathered one family that the first generation and second Mary, might be their grandsons, who were Daniel Dodd and his wife Mary appear at Branford, Connecticut, as early as 1646 or 1647. This does not necessarily mean that they came over from England together. There is strong evidence that Daniel was born in Essex or Suffolk, England, but little or no evidence as to what year he came to America. History shows that there was heavy immigration to New England between 1630 and 1640 and he may have crossed the ocean during that period between the ages of twenty and twenty-five, meeting Mary among the New England settlers after his arrival here. Among a number of "children of the Branford Church", baptized at New Haven in June, 1651, we find the names of Mercy, Hannah, and Daniel Dod; these were evidently the three eldest children of Daniel Dod. Mercy is called Mary in the record of Rev. Stephen Dodd.

Supposing that he took the name from the Branford Records, which, in the name of one of their own people, should be more exact than the New Haven scribe, we shall call her Mary. Hannah is strangely omitted in Rev. Stephen's list of the children of Daniel Dod, though he copies in another place the will of Stephen Dod of Guilford, in which his sister, "Anna" Fowler is mentioned-doubtless the same Hannah who was baptized at New Haven. As in the same will Stephen Dod mentions his cousin, Mary Wheeler, it may be supposed that the wife of the first Daniel Dod was a Wheeler. This, however, is to be taken as mere conjecture till confirmed by some future discovery of documentary evidence. Correcting the list of Rev. Stephen Dodd by the evidence of the New Haven Record, we list below the children of Daniel and Mary Dod.

Daniel died between sowing time, 1665, and the harvest of 1666, as appears (says Rev. Stephen Dod in a private letter) from the appraisal of his personal property, including "the wheat on the ground." His wife died May 26, 1657, and they were both buried at Branford. The children thus left orphans all removed to Newark, N. J. except Anna and Stephen, who lived in Guilford.

After the death of Daniel, his sons, being all minors, petitioned the Court that "Richard Lawrence and Lawrence Ward might be their guardians and have administration in trust granted to them in their behalf." They were appointed and empowered to gather in the estate to be assessed, and to see that all debts and dues to and from the estate be duly prepared, and to look after the children.

On the Probate Record of New Haven, 2d B.-p.8, appears "An inventory of all the goods and chattels of Daniel Dod of Branford, deceased, being appraised upon oath by Lieut. Swayne, John Wilford, and John Ward." The clear estate amounted to £146 17s. 4d. The colonial currency had not then been depreciated by the issue of paper money, and this may be assumed nearly equal to sterling money. If so, it was about $650.00, a moderate sum to be divided among six children but sufficient to give a fair start in life in a country where land could be bought for so little money.

TO MY KINSMEN, GREETING:

BRETHREN, -To you this family history and genealogy is committed much time and labor. Only a part of it is part of public record. The old generations that a few years ago could have given us considerable information are nearly extinct or are superannuated. So that our traditional history of Marriages, Births, and Deaths, and other family matters, is drawing to a close. I have endeavored to collect and save some of the fragments from total dispersion and oblivion.

You will, doubtless, discover mistakes and omissions. Having resided at a distance from the family for thirty-six years, persons and events have passed away without my personal observation. And I could not devote that attention to the subject which might have rendered this little family history more full and accurate. But with some aid from friends in New Jersey, I have done what I could. And Now I commit this collection to you, with all its imperfections, lest by further delay, what has been done should be lost. And I bid you a farewell - wishing and praying, that whatever may become of your earthly genealogy, your names be found written in Lamb's book of life.

STEPHEN DODD.

HISTORICAL REMARKS

INTRODUCTORY TO THE GENEALOGY OF THE FAMILY OF DANIEL DOD AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

Our English ancestors who emigrated from Great Britain to this country, in regard to their religion were Puritans and Congregationalists; for the sake of religious and civil liberty, left their native country and took up residence on the rocky shores of New England about two hundred years ago. They embraced poverty, exile, and suffering, rather than live under perjury, oppression, and the corruptions of the British Court. They cast their lot with the Godly Puritans, in the vast and hazardour, and almost hopeless enterprize, of colonizing the Indian wilderness; but their hope and strength and safety was in Jehovah Nissi - the Lord is my banner - and they succeeded in the great enterprize.

They appear to have arrived at Boston and other places in that vicinity at a early period of these Colonies. A settlement was soon formed at Sagus, now Lynn, beyond Boston; and a Church was gathered there October 8th, 1636. It is probable that DANIEL DOD and his connections were of that Colony. The name is on the Record of that Town; and is also at the present time a common name there and in that vicinity.

By Winthrop's Journal we are informed that, in May, 1640, divers of the inhabitants of Linne finding themselves straitened, looked out for a new plantation, went to Long Island and located themselves at Southampton. "And being now about 40 families, they preceeded in their plantation and called one Mr. Abraham Pierson a Godly learned man and a member of the Church at Boston, to go with them, who, with some seven or eight more of the company, gathered into a Church at Linne or Lynn, before they went, and the whole company entered into a civil combination with the advice of some of our magistrates to become a corporation." Mr. Abraham Pierson was from Neward, Yorkshire, England; and was the ancestor of the Piersons of New Jersey. )

In 1644, William Swayne and others of Weathersfield bought Totket of New Haven at cost, being £12 or £13, and began to settle it that year and called it BRENTFORD, which has since become BRANFORD. "At the same time," says Trumbull, Hist. Conn., "Mr. A. Pierson with a part of his Church and Congregation, from Southampton, Long Island, removed and united with the people of Weathersfield in the settlement of the town. A regular Church was soon formed, and Mr. Pierson was chosen Pastor." This settlement made progress in population and means of subsistence and future prosperity. But in 1662, Connecticut Colony having obtained a Charter from King Charles II, including what was then called the New Haven Government, in opposition to the wishes of the people, demanded the cessation of a separate government and union with Connecticut. This arrangement being hostile to some of the main principles upon which New Haven government was founded, the magistrates refused to accede to their demand. This produced an altercation till May 11, 1665, when Connecticut and New Haven Colonies (including Branford) were united under one government, founded on the aforesaid charter: but many were dissatisfied. Mr. Davenport of New Haven and Mr. Pierson of Branford, were among the principal men of influence, were opposed to it.

About this time the lands of New Jersey, bought of the Duke of York by Lord Carteret and others, were brought into market, which excited the attention of Branford and the neighboring towns. "And in 1665, agents were sent from Branfor, Milford, and Guilford to view the country, to learn the terms of purchase, and the state of the Indians in the vicinity. They discharged their commission, made a favorable report and were sent back with power to purchase a township, to select a proper site for a town and make arrangements for an immediate settlement. The committee who accomplished this business consisted of Capt. Robert Treat, John Curtis, Jasper CRANE, and John Treat. The purchase included the whole ancient township of Newark. And the price of this purchase was £130 New England currency, 12 Indian blankets, and 12 Indian guns." )

In the contemplation of this intended settlement, the inhabitants of Branford adopted the following fundamental agreement.

"October 30, 1665

"At a meeting touching the intended design of many of the inhabitants of Branford, the following was subscribed:

Deut. i 13. Exod.xviii,21. Deut. xvii, 15. Jer. xxxvi, 21.} 1st. That none shall be admitted freemen or free burgesses within our town, upon Passaic River in the Province of New Jersey, but such planters are members of some other of the Congregational Churches; nor shall any but such be chosen to magistracy or to carry on any part of civil judicature, or as deputies or assistants to have power to vote in establishing laws, and making and repealing them; or to any chief military trust or office. Nor shall any bt such church members have any vote in any such elections; though all others admitted to be planters have right to their proper inheritances, and do and shall enjoy all other civil liberties and privileges, according to all laws, orders, grants, which are or hereafter shall be made for this town.

"2d. We shall with care and diligence provide for the maintainance of the purity of religion professed in the Congregational Churches. Whereunto subscribed the inhabitants of Branford.

Samuel Rose, Aaron Blatchly,

John Warde, John Johnson, John Catling, his mark."

In November 1666, many of the inhabitants of Branford united with their associates in thei enterprize.

The removal from Branford took place before the 24th of June, 1667; for on that day all the inhabitants of the town met and subscribed to the above agreement, as specified by the following record.

"And upon the receptio of their letters and subsriptions, the present inhabitants in November following, declared their consents and readiness to do likewise, and at a meeting the 24th of the next June following, in 1667, they also subscribed with their own hands unto the two fundamental agreements expressed on the other side. Their names are as follows:

Robert Treat Thomas Johnson
Obadiah Bruen, John Curtis,
Mathew Camfield Ephraim Burwell,
Samuel Kitchell, Robert Denison's mark R.
Jeremiah Peeke, Nathaniel Wheeler,

Jonathan Tompkins, Stephen Bond."
George Day,

The Indians called the town Passaic, (New Town) but the settlers named it Neward, after the name of the town in England from which Mr. Pierson came. Trumbull says, "that Mr. Pierson and almost his whole Church and Congregation were so displeased (with the charter business) that they soon removed to Newark, New Jersey, carried away the Church records, and after it had been settled almost twenty five years, left it almost without inhabitants: for more than twenty years from that time, there was not a Church formed in that town."

Daniel Dod's name is not among the subscribers to the agreements subscribed in Oct. 1655, because he was then dead, and his sons were all minors. Nor was Daniel, the oldest, of age in 1667.

After the death of the English Daniel his sons petitioned the Court that "Richard Lawrence and Laurence Ward might be their gardians and might have adminstration in trust granted to them in their behalf. They were appointed and empowered to gather in the estate to be assessed, and to see that all debts and dues to and from the estate be duly prepared, and to look after the children."

"An inventory of all the goods and chattels of Daniel Dod, of Branford, deceased, being appraised upon oath, by Lieut. Swayne, John Wilford, and John Ward." This appears on Probate Record, New Haven, 2d B p.8. The clear estate amounted to £146 17s. 4d. This was probably nearly equal to sterling money; and if so, it was about $650.

The condition of our family two hundred years ago affords nothing to gratify pride. As to wealth or dignities we have nothing to boast of. Our English father was comparatively a poor man, and his children became orphans in their minority; and with a very small patrimony were cast upon the wide world. But he was a Christian and a member of the Church of God in Branford; and the Lord made a bountiful provision for his children and their children's children even up to the third and fourth generation. And the fifth and sixth generation are generally in as comfortable circumstances as the cotemporary families of Branford and Newark. They have generally been farmers, leading retired and industrious lives, in a state of comfort and local usefulness. Some of them have annexed mechanical employments to their agricultural occupations. As as to general character, for a family so numerous, they may bear no mean comparison with any of the families of the contemporaries of Daniel Dod of Branford or their respective descendants. A large proportion of the family have appears as professed disciples of Jesus Christ, and in general have been steadfast in the religion of their fathers, and exemplary in the support of gospel institutions and good order in the community. And from their puritan and repulican original have derived and maintained the principles of freedom bequeathed to them. And it is with no small satisfaction that I record the fact, that with five or six short exceptions, their hands are clean from the slavery of the negroes; and especially so far as I know, that I inherit neither blood nor property through the bondage and labor of the African race.

It appears that the name Dod was so written from the earliest period known to us, even before the emigration of our English ancestor from England. About the close of the revolutionary war, it began to be written Dodd, and for the last fifty years it has been so written by the younger generations of the family except the Guilford branch. It is now universally written Dodd in Boston and vicinity and in Hartford. In England the change from Dod to Dodd took place more than a century ago, and will doubtless finally be adopted by all the family.

AN ACCOUNT OF THE NAMES, MARRIAGES, BIRTHS AND DEATHS OF THE ENGLISH DANIEL DOD AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

The name of Dod dates back to the Twelfth Century to the reign of Henry II and the Crusades. The eldest family is of the Dod family in Edge near Shropshire and Cheshire, bordering on Wales. There is even a Coat of Arms for the Dod family. It is speculated that Daniel Dodd Sr. was the son of Rev. John Dod of Shotwich England. He was born around 1549. Rev. Dod was a very popular preacher. This caused the jealous of his peers, which ultimately led to the crime of having multitudes flocking to his ministry. After a complaint by one Bishop Neile, he was silenced by the Archbishop. He resorted to giving private ministries for a time. Eventually, after the ascension of King James, he preached again for Sir Richard Knighby at Fausley in Northamptonshire. Again, he faced the wrath of his peers for his popularity and was silenced. During the civil war between King and Parliament, Rev. John Dod dealt with the inhuman treatment of the King's party, who proceeded to rob him of all his possessions except one sheet that he managed to sit on while the King's men looked for other loot. He was near death at the time and took glory from having robbed the robbers. He died at the very old age of ninety-six years in the year 1645. His remains are interred at Fausley in Northamptonshire. Daniel Dod came here between 1630 and 1640. The first record of him is in Branford Conn. in 1646. He married Mary(Mercy)Wheeler. They had a rough life and succumbed to the ravages of the New World after about thirty or so years here. They had seven children Daniel Dodd Jr., being the seventh child born, was born shortly before Daniel Sr. died. He wound up with his older sister, Mary, in Newark, New Jersey.

In the work of Rev. Stephen Dodd, she is not listed as one of the children. However, his work also contains the will of Stephen Dodd {her brother} which refers to his sister, "Anna Fowler".

In the work of Allison Dodd, she states that she was baptized at New Haven in June 1651 on page 1, as "Hannah" and on page 3, she states that she was baptized on June 1652 at New Haven. Since the baptism date did not correspond with the birth date, I'm making her birth date as "bef June 1651".

Came to Newark with his brothers and sister, Mary, and at a town meeting, Feb. 13, 1678-9, being then about twenty-two years old, he was admitted a planter. His home lot was assigned at the northwest end of the town plot next his brother Daniel's lot.....In Jan. 1701-2, he was chosen constable of the town. His will is the oldest will of Dod record in this state. It is dated Feb. 3, 1712-13 and was proved 1714; he probably died, therefore, either in 1713 or 1714, aged 56 or 57.....Footnote: All Samuels children were minors at their father's death; whence it seems he, like his brother Daniel married late.

Daniel DODD

Daniel Jr. is on the First tax record of 1668. He married Phebe Brown, daughter of John Brown, one of the first settlers of Newark. Daniel Jr. was somewhat of a surveyor in that he was appointed in 1678, along with Edward Ball, to run the northern line of Newark, with the Indians, to extend to the top of the mountain. In 1692 he was chosen deputy to the legislature and was entrusted with the public business of the town's people. In 1701, he was involved in the purchase of lands west of the bounds of Newark purchase from the top of the mountain to

William Oscar CAIN

William is listed in the Mississippi 1850 Census in the household of sister Rebecca and her husband William Crownover. In February, 1861, a William and Sarah Cain of Drew County, AR, sold land to Mary C. Reynolds - the land transaction is recorded in Tipped County, MS. William is later listed in the 1880 Freestone Co, TX census. William is again listed in the 1900 Freestone County, TX census with 6 children, 4 living. William filed Confederate Pension #1523 on 29 Jun1899 for service in Company A, Morgan's Arkansas Regiment, 1862.

On 7 May 1879, William and Sarah Cain sell 209 acres of land to J. H. and J. L. Mayo for $2200.00, to be paid in 2 installments of $1100. On 13 May 1879, William Cain sells 10 lots in the town of Wortham, TX for $10 to S. A. Killough . It appears (if I'm reading this right) that William purchased these lots with the "lien" papers from the 7 May Sale. I've read and re-read these documents to try and understand how much he paid for the lots, and why he sold them for $10.00. On 27 Jan 1902, William Cain purchases a meat market and meat market house for the sum of $100 located "in the public square" of Fairfield. Documents are below:

Cain, William O. by Mrs. Walton Smith

William O. Cain (1830-1902) came to Freestone County from Mississippi after his service in the Civil War, married Sarah Ann Boatner, and they lived in Wortham, the Ward Prairie community, and Fairfield. They are buried in the Fairfield Cemetery. Their children were: (1) Corse; (2) Maude; (3) Willett who married Wash Sellers; (4) John r. Boatner, and (5) William Oscar "Billie". All of these children grew up in the Ward Prairie community northwest of Fairfield.

1820 Comonore County, Mississippi Census

Stewart, William

2 males 10-16

1 male 16-26

1 male 26-45

5 females under 10

1 female 26-45

Hard to place William's children with these. Approx ages for his sons in 1820 would have been:

James F. 11, George, 10, Moody, 7 and William Jr. born in 1819, would have been an infant in 1820. We know they all lived to adulthood, so should have been on this census. The 2 males 10-16 could easily be James F. and George, but why no record of the 2 boys under 10? And who is the male 16-26? For the 5 girls under the age of 10, 2 of them would have been Malinda and Sarah. There was reportedly 3 other girls born to this family that died young, this may be the other 3 of the girls under age 10 in 1820.

~~Linda, Just noticed that on the letter from Lois Gore someone has written on the margin- Crosby files. She says that Mr. Jim Stewart said that his great grandfather (William) had one son that stayed near him in Monroe County and reared a family there and his descendants still live there. Moody Burt Stewart is written by that paragraph. He also stated that William had 49 slaves who were freed at the close of the War and deeded most of his land to the Negroes and he lived on there until his death.~~

Charles CLAY

Charles Clay deposed on 2 Oct 1682 that he was about 37 years old (15). In 1657, he apprenticed himself to Stephen Tickner, "Chyrugion," of Surry County, who was to "Employ him about the way of Chyrugery or Phissiake, for & during the terms of Seaven yeares...." (16).

Charles Clay married Hannah Wilson, daughter of John Wilson, Sr., and sister of John Wilson, Jr., to whom he gave a receipt of his wife's full share of her father's estate, 18 Feb. 1685/6 (17). Shortly thereafter, Charels died intestate for on 1 June 1696, his widow Hannah was granted letters of administration. An inventory was returned on 2 Aug. 1686. (18).

On 1 Oct. 1687, Hannah Clay made a deed of gift of cattle and personality to "John Clay, Thomas Clay, Henry Clay and Charles Clay, my sonnes" and to "my daughter Judith." (19). She married second, before 19 April 1696 (20), Edward Stanley. She probably died before 20 Aug. 1706, when Edward Stanley was ordered "to bring the remaining orphans of Charles Clay to the next Court to discharge the securities of their estates." (21)

Thomas DODD

Daniel Dod, baptized at Wixoe, Suffolk, {England}, on October 15, 1615, recorded as the son of Thomas Dodd. In the same record is the baptism of another boy by the name of Stephen Dodd on January 8, 1617, at the same place.

In the register of the Parish of Birdbrook, Essex, an adjoining Parish about two miles south of Wixoe in Suffolk, I {Allison Dodd} saw recorded the death of Thomas Dod on September 19, 1649. He was buried in the Birdbrook Churchyard the next day. The Court Record showed his will to be as follows:

"ABSTRACT OF THE WILL OF THOMAS DOD OF BIRDBROKE, ESSES, HUSBANDMAN:

Dated 17 Sep. 1649

Proved at Great Dunmowe, 28 Sep. 1649 (Commissary of London, Essex and Herts; Clarke 146)

To buried where it shall please God.

To KATHERINE my wife all my goods and chattels for life; after her death, to be divided equally between my 3 sons THOMAS DOD, STEPHEN DOD, and SAMUEL DOD,

To SUSANNA my daughter, wife of HENRY DUNMOW, 40/-- within a year of my death.

to THOMAS my son my tenement, conditional on his paying STEPHEN my son £10 immediately after my death.

Executors. KATHERNE my wife and STEPHEN my son; they to pay my debts and have my body "decently to be brought to the earth".

THOMAS DOD (Mark)

Witnesses. Edward Agnis alias Smith; William Wade (Mark).

This probably connects Stephen Dodd, baptized two years after Daniel, as a brother. It also lists another brother by the name of Samuel which, in my mind, is additional proof of the family relationship. Our Daniel, after his marriage in America, most naturally named two of his sons Stephen and Samuel, the ancestors of many of our family, after his brothers.

The fact that Daniel was not mentioned in the will of his father can readily be accounted for by the fact that he went out of the family life entirely when he left England. He might have gone with his share of the family patrimony, or he might have gone against his father's will.

SOME EARLY NEWARK RECORDS INVOLVING EDWARD BALL

From: "Patents and Deeds, and Other Early Records of New Jersey, 1664-1703",

Below is the info on Edward Ball. As you can see there were several interesting names involved in these entries. Although the originals have misspellings, I may have added in one or two myself. I took some time at work to type this up. Anything more may entail a bit of a wait - I can always let someone know if the name is in the book at all. Jean M. Perry 332. Samuel[12] Swaine (William, 400)[231] (A2,106). Born, circa 1633, in London, England[232]. Died, 1682, in Newark, NJ[174]. Extra 4 in Branford, CT. Extra 0: 1666, in Newark, NJ. Occupation: Miller, Judge.

A Swaine Genealogy: "His livelihood seems to have been connected to the construction trade. Samuel built two mills during the late 1640's and early 1650's. His first effort was for the people of Stamford...Samuel built the frame and body of the grist mill, while the town built the necessary dam. Swaine received a payment of 51 pounds for his labor...unfortunately the mill was wrecked in a storm soon after. Again a mill was built by Stamford in the same manner. At Branford, Samuel built another mill under the same arrangement. Once finished in 1654, the town leased the mill to Swaine for the next six years. "New Haven's Particular Court of Connecticut records for 1661 include a suit by Samuel Swaine, general contractor, versus John Cotton and William Wadsworth....

"Samuel's activities on behalf of the community were not limited to construction of mills. He was also active in the area militia, being appointed chief military officer for Branford in 1654...Like his father, Samuel played a major role in the civil affairs of Branford. He was deputy to the New Haven legislature from May, 1653 through May, 1665, and a judge from May, 1654 until his departure for New Jersey.

"Captain Samuel Swaine, his wife and children were among the first residents of Branford to leave Connecticut for what became Newark. The traditional date for the arrival of the thirty families is May 18, 1666. On that date, the new arrivals did not stay ashore for very long. The Indians, who saw their arrival, were very hostile, feeling that this land had not been purchased by Governor Cartaret. With this situation, the New Englanders reboarded their vessels and sailed to Elizabethtown to meet Carteret. The representatives of the families secured a written statement of their ownership from the Governor that the Indians later accepted. During the time of this conference, the members of the towns signed a covenant dated May 21, 1666...The intended result of the compact was the creation of a colony where the principles of the church were to govern the spiritual and civil life of its citizens. The guiding principles of Connecticut had evolved into a system too different for the dissidents to accept.

"Samuel was active in much of the town's affairs in the decade following the founding of Newark. Samuel Swaine played an important part in the settling of the lines [between Elizabethtown and Newark]. The men from Elizabethtown carved an E into the tree, while Samuel and the other representatives carved an S. Later he was a member of the General Assembly called by Gov. Carteret in 1668.

"When the town needed a gristmill...they turned to Samuel. In 1669, the town offered Swaine 20 shillings for a six day week with an additional 3 pounds for skill to build the structure. Interestingly, the Newark representatives who made the offer also said that "the town will take it thankfully: if Swaine could reduce his price. For whatever reason, the offer did not result in a finished gristmill.

"In the Spring of 1672, Samuel was chosen to be an assemblyman for the Newark area. On May 14, 1672, he was deputized to consult with the rest of the representatives of the county.' The reason for the Assembly was two-fold: First, the actions of Gov. Carteret in dealing with the citizens had become arbitrary and heavy-handed. Secondly the fear of Indian attacks needed to be addressed. In a second step, a group of Newark residents traveled with other area town residents to New York City to see mayor concerning the disputes with the Governor. Again, Samuel was selected to be one of the men. The hoped-for selection and support of a member to go to England to present their version of the land title dispute did not materialize.

"In the later half of the 1670's and early 1680's, Samuel became a member of the judicial system. He was appointed to the court system created by the Assembly in 1675, as an assistant to John Ward, who was the Justice. In August, 1681, he was an assistant to Justice Henry Lyon. The court which Samuel served met twice during the year, handling cases involving 4 shillings to 20 pounds.

"The land records of Newark contain the name Samuel Swaine through the year 1696. It is probably that his wife kept the land titled under Samuel's name.

CHARLES AUSTIN CRANE, M.D., is the scion of one of the oldest families that sought a home in the new world, his genealogy in America being traceable in unbroken succession to one Jasper CRANE, and his wife Alice, natives of England, who became members of the New Haven Colony, Connecticut, as early as the year 1630. Shortly after landing in New England, Jasper CRANE located at what was afterwards the town of Brantford, and from the most reliable information accessible he appears to have been a man of considerable local prominence and a leader among his fellow colonists. It is a matter of family history that he was the youngest son of Sir William CRANE, who owned a valuable estate near the city of London, and who for his honesty and fidelity to the government, as well as for valuable personal services rendered the King, received the order of knighthood. The CRANE coat of arms consisted of a silver shield with three red crosses, surmounted by the figure of a CRANE, the whole constituting an appropriate device, the honor of which has never been dimmed by any unworthy act on the part of the family for which it was designed. The Joseph CRANE who came to America had formerly been a magistrate, and while living in England he devoted some years to mercantile pursuits, in which he acquired an ample competence. Within a short time after joining the Connecticut colony he and Captain Robert Treat, John Austin and his oldest son, John CRANE, were appointed commissioners to explore the shore skirting Newark bay, and after making a favorable report to the authorities, they purchased the land on which the city of Newark, New Jersey, was subsequently built, paying for the site, which extended from the ocean back to second mountain, one hundred and thirty pounds of tobacco, twelve blankets, and the same number of guns, with which exchange the original Indian owners appeared perfectly satisfied. About the year 1666 Jasper CRANE changed his abode from Brantford, Connecticut, to Newark, New Jersey, and it appears that he took as lively interest in the growth and development of the latter colony as he had manifested in the former. As a matter of interest it may here be stated that in 1640 the New Haven colony established the oath of fidelity to the crown, the first to subscribe to the same being Governor Eaton, after which he administered it to his constituents, among the first of whom was Jasper CRANE, who appears never to have hesitated in his allegiance to constituted authority.

The family of Jasper consisted of five children, whose names were Deliverance, John, Jasper, Azonah and Hannah, who married Thomas Huntington. It is pretty certain that the two eldest were born in England, and the fact is well established that Jasper and Azonah were born within a few years after the family settled in the colony of Connecticut. After a long and useful life, fraught with great good to the people of the different New England communities in which he lived, and for the material prosperity of which he unselfishly devoted so much of his time and energy, Jasper CRANE, Sr., died at Newark in the year 1678. His youngest son, Azonah, married Mary Treat, daughter of Governor Robert Treat, and became the father of Moses CRANE, a tailor by trade, and one of the first settlers of Warren, Ohio. The latter had a son of the name of Stephen, who moved in an early day from Ohio to Orange county, New Jersey, where he married and reared sons and daughters, among whom was Caleb, who entered the marriage relation with Tamar HARRISON. Bethwie, son of Caleb S. and Tamar CRANE, was the father of Aaron CRANE, who achieved considerable prominence as a fine mechanic, among his inventions being a clock which ran one year without winding, and varied but a few minutes during that time. Deacon Oliver CRANE, son of Aaron, and a man of prominence in his community, met with an accidental death by being thrown from a horse. His grandson, Rev. Oliver CRANE, was one of the first American missionaries to India, and spent a number of years disseminating the doctrines of Christianity among the people of that country; subsequently he returned to Morristown, New Jersey, where his death occurred. One of his sons, Ezekiel by name, was taken prisoner at Oswego, New York, by the French and Indians in 1758, and afterwards died in Canada. Reverting to the lineal descent of Dr. Charles Austin CRANE, the following is given as the correct succession: his father, George Benjamin CRANE, was the son of Amza A. CRANE, whose father's name was Benjamin; the latter's father also bore the name of Benjamin, and he was the son of Stephen CRANE. Azonah CRANE, father of Stephen, was the youngest son of the immigrant Jasper CRANE, from whom originated the CRANE family in the United States. Owing to absence of correct data it is impossible to give an authentic outline of the lives of several of these ancestors. Beginning, however, with the Doctor's great-great-grandfather, Benjamin CRANE, it is learned that he was born at Eagle Rock, Essex county, New Jersey, and that in his youth he accompanied his father to Morris county, that state, where he grew to manhood and received his education. He studied law, became a successful practitioner in the courts of Morris county and elsewhere, and for a number of years occupied the bench in that part of the state. As a jurist he achieved high distinction and as a lawyer ranked with the leading members of the New Jersey bar. He instituted the first family reunion in 1850, the celebration of which was afterwards changed so as to date from August 21st, in honor of his birthday, Benjamin CRANE, the subject's great-grandfather, was born in New Jersey, spent all of his life in his native state, and his body rests near the place where so many of his years were spent. Amza A. CRANE, son of Benjamin, was born in Morris county, New Jersey, in 1717, was married there to Nancy Cosby, and later moved to Seneca county, New York, where he lived as a prosperous tiller of the soil until his death, in 1880, his wife preceding him to the grave by some years.

George Benjamin CRANE, the Doctor's father, was born in the town of Junius, Seneca county, New York, in 1835, and spent his early life on his father's farm. After attending the common schools about the usual length of time he became a student in an academy at Waterloo, New York, where he attained much more than usual efficiency in general scholarship. When a youth of sixteen he severed home ties and went to New York city to accept a clerkship with the dry goods firm of Sherwood & Chapman, in which capacity he received his first practical knowledge of business life. He developed fine qualifications as a salesman, and was never in need of a remunerative position. He remained in the employ of the above house about six years, and then went to Cincinnati, where he was similarly engaged during the three years following. At the expiration of that time he accepted a position with a dry goods firm in St. Louis, but did not remain very long in that city, resigning his place within a couple of months for the purpose of engaging in business for himself. In partnership with his father-in-law, A. O. French, he opened a general store at Whitehall, Illinois, but after three years at that place the firm transferred their stock to the town of Edwardsville, in the same state, where the business was conducted under the name of French & CRANE until 1881. In that year Mr. CRANE purchased his partner's interest and continued as sole proprietor until closing out and retiring from active life in 1891. He was married, in 1863, to Miss Isabella French, whose birth occurred in New York city, November 10, 1844. Her father, A. O. French, to whom reference has already been made, removed to St. Louis, Missouri, in 1846, thence to Whitehall, Illinois, with the mercantile interests of which place he was identified for a number of years. Mrs. CRANE bore her husband three sons, and departed this life at Edwardsville, Illinois, in December, 1901. Of the three children constituting the family of George B. and Isabella CRANE, the subject of this sketch is the youngest and the only one living; the other, Edward O. and George B., were born in the order named.

Charles Austin CRANE is a native of Edwardsville, Illinois, and dates his birth from the 15th day of August, 1875. His early life was without event worthy of note, as he spent the time pretty much as do the majority of lads reared and educated in country towns. When old enough he entered the schools of Edwardsville, and after attending the same until about the age of fifteen became a student of St. Vincent College, Los Angeles, California, in which city his father lived for a short time. The training received in this institution was afterwards supplemented by a course in a military school under the auspices of the United States government in southern Missouri, where he received a rigid but most excellent discipline, the effect of which was to lay a substantial foundation for his subsequent professional career.

In the year 1894 Dr. Carne entered Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, from which institution he was graduated three years later and shortly thereafter he took a special course in diseases of the eye and ear in the Philadelphia Polyclinic and College for Medical Graduates. There, under some of the most distinguished specialists of the United States, he prosecuted his researches and experimental studies until completing the full course, receiving his degree in 1898. He next entered the Will's Eye Hospital, Philadelphia, where in addition to clinical study of all diseases peculiar to that organ, he was made assistant, and as such continued until finishing the prescribed course. Dr. CRANE, on the 1st day of May, 1898, located at Canton, Ohio, from which time to the present he has been actively engaged in the practice with a large and steadily increasing business. His recognized skill as a specialist has won for him a wife reputation, and his success has placed him in the ranks of the leading specialists of Canton and Ohio. At this time he is the local medical examiner for the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, also medical adviser for the Maryland Casualty Company in this city. Among the various societies with which he is identified are the American Medical Association, Medical Society of Canton, Stark County Academy of Medicine, and the Ohio State Medical Society. He takes a lively interest in the deliberations of these bodies, and keeps pace with modern advancement in all lines of professional activity.

Dr. CRANE has a beautiful and attractive home, presided over with becoming grace by a wife to whom he was united in the bonds of wedlock on the 6th of June, 1899, the ceremony being solemnized in the city of Canton. Mrs. CRANE, who was formerly Miss Ida Norris, is a native of Canton, and the daughter of Bazil and Elizabeth (Miller) Norris, of Stark county.
